

MINERS SEEK 30-HOUR WEEK, HIGHER WAGES

Convention of U. M. of A. instructs Scale Committee to Press for These Points.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—The United Mine Workers of America in convention here today instructed the officers and Scale Committee to press for a five-day week, a six-hour day and wage increases when new contracts are negotiated with operators of the bituminous fields.

The convention also voted to empower its representatives to negotiate with the bituminous operators and through the instrumentality of the NRA "the best contracts obtainable."

Miners' officers are to meet in Washington, Feb. 12, with representatives of the operators to negotiate a new wage scale for the Appalachian region which will also serve as a basis for wage agreements in other districts.

More than 20 resolutions dealing with wages and working conditions were grouped by the Scale Committee into one which read in part:

"If the joint conference beginning Feb. 12 between operators and miners should disagree upon questions affecting hours, wages and conditions of employment, then the solution of our difficulties naturally rests upon the NRA . . ."

"Your Scale Committee recommends that it be the policy of this organization that the officers and members of the Scale Committee be authorized to press the consideration and final adoption of the five-day week and six-hour day. We are confident that this method offers the only constructive program that can be pursued by the bituminous coal industry or the Federal Government in interest of stabilization and more widespread employment."

"It is also the opinion of the committee that formal demand should be made upon the next joint conference by the members of your Scale Committee for increased wages."

The convention voted to hold the next convention in Washington, D. C., in January, 1936.

EATS BY IMAGINARY CLOCK

Blind Professor Food Arranged Like Dial.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 31.—Prof. Edwin B. Frost, noted astronomer, who has become blind after years of peering through the telescope and microscope at the Yerkes Observatory, and has retired to this resort, has by the use of imaginary numerals arranged clock-wise around his dinner plate, devised a method of serving himself at the table.

Mrs. Frost arranges the food and assigns to each portion a number corresponding to the figures on a clock. With the plate serving as the face of the clock, the astronomer knows just where to place his fork or spoon to obtain the food desired.

CHEVROLET PLANT UNION MEN SAY THEY LOST JOBS

Labor Board Hears Complaints of Discrimination Against Workers Not in Company Council.

1000 SAID TO HAVE BEEN OUSTED

This Number Includes Those Not Recalled at Fisher Body Co. After Seasonal Layoff.

Charges that the Chevrolet Motor Co. and the Fisher Body Co. discharged veteran employees for union activity and discriminated against other experienced workers for failure to join the company-sponsored Works Council in the St. Louis plant, were made before the Regional Labor Board by the Automobile Workers' Federal Labor Union yesterday.

The companies made written demands of the charges, but were not represented at the hearing.

The evidence included affidavits by 80 workers, many of whom attributed their dismissal from service to the fact that they were known to be active in the Federal Labor Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Others assert they were not recalled to their jobs following the seasonal layoff because of refusal to join the Works Council.

New Men in Plants.
A. J. Pickett, an international union officer, who represented the workers, told the Labor Board that about 1000 men of the Federal Labor Union have not been recalled, although a check made at the gates showed that more than 1500 men are at work. Pickett estimated that there are 500 new men in the two plants. These include men from other states and employees previously discharged for inefficiency, he said.

Pickett discussed two affidavits at length as best supporting the Union's allegations.

John A. Conrad Jr., 2728 Bell avenue, with 13 years' service in the Fisher body mill asserts he has not been recalled to work, although the plant is in "dead study" operation. He explained the "fastest hand operator in the plant," Conrad states that last Nov. 24, A. T. Dorion, the mill superintendent, offered him 78 cents an hour, regardless of his actual earnings as a saw operator, if he would solicit other workmen for the Works Council. Conrad says he turned the proposition down. Two days previously, according to his affidavit, his work was accepted as the standard for piece work on small parts. Conrad states he was laid off when the mill shut down Dec. 4, and has not been recalled, although operations have been re-started.

Loses Job After 10 Years.
Delmond Garst, 4122W Lee avenue, a machine operator in the Fisher body mill for 10 years, states in an affidavit that last August he refused a request that he permit his name to be drafted as a representative of the Works Council. In November, Garst states, he was given an inexperienced new man three men to his crew. His request for at least one experienced man from the night crew was denied. The night crew was demoted and the unit fell behind in production. The mill shut down Dec. 4, and Garst says he was not recalled with other workmen Dec. 11. When he asked for an explanation, he says, he was told that a better operator had been found. He is an officer of the Federal Labor Union.

Other affidavits by experienced men, members of the union, told of their being laid off and not recalled although other workers, who joined the Works Council, are back at work. One man quoted his foreman as follows: "If you think those people in Washington are going to do anything for you fellows, you are crazy."

In support of his point that the men want a union of their own, and not a company union, Pickett introduced evidence showing that less than 100 men participated in the election of representatives to the Works Council, while 2800 had been signed to the second meeting of the Federal Labor Union. He asked the board to allow the companies to re-employ workers whose charges that they were victims of discrimination have been substantiated. The case was taken under advisement.

Continental Life Head in Court

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.
ED MAYS.

Ed Mays Tells of Unpaid Dividend

$41,528; Continental Securities & Holding Co., $45,000; Grand National Co., $47,000; A. A. Jekel, a director of Continental Life, $3250. Indebtedness to Bank.

In this transaction, Mays explained, the Continental Securities & Holding Co. lent him $118,000 and paid him $82,000 it owed for Grand National Bank stock he had sold it at $205 a share. Stock of the holding company was up for collateral for the loan of $200,000 at the Boatmen's National Bank, he said, and in addition a large block of Continental Life stock was deposited there for safe keeping.

The Continental Securities & Holding Co. was organized in 1928, Mays stated, after he had leased to Renzo E. Anderson & Co. were buying up Grand National Bank stock in an effort to get control. Mays said that he and his friends pooled their bank stock in the holding company at $205 a share.

Directors Aleded Him.

Mays explained that some of the directors of the insurance company had borrowed from the Grand National Bank and the Wellston Trust Co. to assist him in paying what he owed the Boatmen's Bank and that out of the $276,000 he got for the stock sold to the Wellston Trust Co. he paid off their notes.

Turning to the payment of a reward of $140,000 for the return of $822,000 in bonds stolen from safe deposit boxes of the Grand National Bank, Mays related his negotiations leading up to return of the bonds. The fact that the Continental Life issued a check for $140,000 payable to the Grand National Bank about the time of the payment of the reward was mentioned in the report of the examination of the insurance company.

After stating he was in Chicago at the time of the bank robbery, Mays related that in the following November Arthur C. Hilmer brought him information that an "underworld character" had offered to return the bonds, and he referred Hilmer to the manager of the security company which had presented him with a bond for $50,000. Mays then told how the robbers were said to have demanded $200,000 at first and then compromised at $140,000, and how in January the money was turned over to the surety company manager and the bonds returned.

The payment was made with two cashiers' checks of the Grand National Bank, one for $65,000 and one for $75,000, Mays said. He said the bank had nothing to show for the money and that a few days later the Continental Insurance Co. gave the bank a check for $140,000. He said that the Continental company was interested in getting the bonds back because among them were $5,000 in bonds belonging to it. The bank, he said, had lost about $200,000 in bonds which it held as collateral for loans.

Mays said that when the insurance company issued its $140,000 check payable to the bank, he gave it to the bank to have the records show the check was for securities. Subsequently, he continued, the bank reimbursed the insurance company by issuing to it a certificate of deposit for the amount, and changing it to the bank's surplus.

"As Few Records as Possible." It was desirable, he said, to have as few records as possible concerning the reward, "for we didn't know how it might involve us."

Questioned about the Grand National Co., another of his corporations, Mays said he regards the capital of $2500 as a "trading company," to be affiliated with the Grand National Bank. His investment has been repaid, and the stock is now held for the benefit of the bank, he added.

He was asked about loans totaling $195,778 owed to the Wellston Trust Co. by himself, his associates and his controlled companies. These loans, criticized by the Insurance Department examiners, were as follows: Ed Mays, $45,000; Mrs. Ed Mays, $5000; Ben Mays,

KILLED BY PATROL CAR CARRYING MAN INJURED IN CRASH

DEFENSE RESTS WITHOUT PUTTING TOUGH ON STAND

Priest and Two Other Witnesses Testify for Him at Factor Kidnapping Trial.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The defense rested today in the trial of Roger Touhy, Albert Kator and Gaston Schaefer, charged with the kidnapping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor. None of the defendants took the stand. Yesterday the State dismissed charges against Edward McFadden.

For his three principal witnesses, Defense Attorney William Scott Stewart introduced the Rev. Joseph L. Weber, a 70-year-old Indianapolis priest, Dr. Samuel Wolf, an eye specialist, and Miss Emily Ivens, an alibi witness for Touhy.

Father Weber testified that he had met Touhy to seek Factor's release and said emphatically he was convinced of Touhy's innocence.

Called into the case by Factor's family, Father Weber said, he visited Touhy's home where Touhy told him, "Without God, I had nothing to do with it."

To contradict Factor's testimony that he recognized Touhy as one of his kidnappers, during an instant when the captors raised Factor's blindfold, the defense introduced Dr. Wolf, who testified that a man who had been blindfolded for several days would be unable to see clearly for four or five minutes.

From Miss Ivens, the defense deposed, Touhy spent most of the night of June 30 at home. Factor was kidnapped early on the morning of July 1.

ACCUSES MAN OF GIVING WRONG NAME TO GET LOAN

Woman Cashier of Mikado Co. Sees Missing Client on Street, Has Him Arrested.

An information charging obtaining money through false pretenses was issued by the Circuit Attorney today against William D. Grevatte, 24 years old, who was arrested yesterday when Miss Lucile Nefner, cashier for the Mikado Loan Co., recognized him on the street as a man giving another name in obtaining a loan of $1250.

Grevatte, who said he lived at 5923A Easton avenue, never doffed from the loan company obtained the loan last Dec. 14 under the name of an acquaintance, John W. Owen. He made one weekly payment of $3, and then quit paying. When the company took steps to collect it was discovered that neither Owen nor the two men named as sureties knew anything about the loan.

Grevatte, an unemployed salesman, admitted obtaining the money, police say.

ALDERMAN LIKE WRESTLING SO MOVE UP LIQUOR HEARING

Session Friday Afternoon to Permit Them to Go to Bout on Friday Evening.

The time for Friday's hearing, by the Public Safety Committee of the Board of Aldermen, on pending liquor control bills, has been changed from 7:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. This change will permit the Alderman to attend Friday night's wrestling matches. The hearing will be held in the Board of Aldermen chamber.

At Friday noon's meeting of the board, Alderman Brown's liquor bill will be referred to the committee, which now has the Dickmann administration's bill and that of Alderman Gummels. Alderman O'Toole, committee chairman, has announced that the speakers at the hearing will be those who were not heard at the hearing Friday night.

FEDERAL RECEIVERSHIP SUIT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 31.—A petition asking a Federal receivership for the Farm & Home Savings and Loan Association of Missouri, and headquarters at Nevada, Mo., was filed in Federal Court here to-day by R. B. Hackler and Betty Hackler of Rincon, N. M.

The petition, which charges the officers and directors of the organization with being negligent in the performance of their duties, asks also that those officials and directors be suspended and removed from office and that they be required to account for money and property, which, according to the petition, the association has lost.

The association recently was reorganized after a receivership in a Stat eCourt.

The widow of Edward G. Bremer, 29, was found dead at 9:20 a. m. today in her jewelry store at 1215 Locust street, in the Jefferson Hotel building. He had been ill all day since suffering a paralytic stroke two years ago.

A few minutes before he died Mr. Bremer, 29, was found dead at 9:20 a. m. today in his jewelry store at 1215 Locust street, in the Jefferson Hotel building. He had been ill all day since suffering a paralytic stroke two years ago.

The youth told police he came home hungry at 11 o'clock, went into the kitchen and turned on the gas, believing the pilot light on the stove would light the fire. He sat down in a chair, fell asleep and was overcome. His mother, who is employed there, found him unconscious. She discovered the pilot light was not lit.

Totally Destroyed in

Fire, believed to have started from a short circuit in a motor truck, swept through the McPherson Garage, 4725 McPherson avenue, last evening, destroying or damaging 48 automobiles stored there.

Damage was estimated by Fire Chief O'Boyle at $35,000 to the machines and $25,000 to the building. The firm had no insurance on the contents. The building was insured.

A general alarm was turned in after Thomas Dowley, 7350 Wise avenue, one of the proprietors, discovered fire in a group of trucks at 5:45 o'clock. Fifteen pumpers and six hook-and-ladder companies responded and firemen poured water into the one-story building from front and rear.

Fanned by a brisk wind and fed by gasoline and oil, the flames roared through the garage, reducing many cars to blackened, twisted masses of metal. On other cars paint was scorched, tires and tops burned and glass cracked. A dense cloud of smoke served as a beacon to attract hundreds of spectators.

The fire was out in 45 minutes. The building, 150 feet square, is owned by William H. McNichols, 5613A Easton avenue, whose son, Ralph, is a partner in the business.

A garage and fence at 4732 Westminster place, across the alley, was damaged $100 by the fire.

Attorney General Asks That not be valid if, in the final ruling, it is held that the act does not corporation issuance of permits to corporations and partnerships. Under such circumstances the issuance of the license would not be a bar to prosecution of a corporation or partnership for having violated the controls by selling or selling liquor, McKittrick said.

The first two State licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquor by the drink were issued yesterday to two establishments in St. Louis.

Licence No. 1 was issued to St. Louis Cafes, Inc., operating the Bismarck Cafe, 410 North Twelfth boulevard. Licence No. 2 was issued to the Mark Twain Hotel.

Department employees said issuance of the licenses prior to passage of the St. Louis liquor control ordinance did not mean a reversal of the announced policy of E. J. Becker, State Liquor Control Supervisor, that State licenses for sale by the drink would not be issued until local control ordinances were passed.

Action by City Necessary.

It was stated the two licenses issued, yesterday could not become effective, or be used by the holders until the St. Louis control ordinance is passed and becomes operative. Three licenses for wholesale dealers and two for dealers in original packages have been issued to St. Louis firms. La Salle's Products Co., 1908 Pine street, obtained a wholesaler's license yesterday, and the Thomas Rosenthal Drug Co., 1408 North Grand boulevard, obtained a license for sale in original packages. The State license fee for wholesalers is $500 a year, and for original packers, $50.

Licenses issued previously went to the Dan Becker Distributing Co., 630 Marl Building, and Tony Faust's Sons, Inc., 904 Bank of Commerce Building, for wholesale trading, and to the Faust-Fulton Market Co., 922 North Broadway, for original package sale.

$35,000 GIVEN BY ONE CONCERN TO RELIEF FUND

Corporation, Not Identified, Makes Largest Donation Ever Reported in St. Louis Charity Drive.

One corporation has given $35,000 to the United Relief Campaign, the largest gift ever obtained in a relief drive here according to an announcement by Arnold G. Stifel, campaign chairman.

Stifel did not name the corporation. Its gift, he said, represented a $20,000 increase over its contribution to the last United Relief Campaign. He emphasized that it was the gift of the corporation, and distinct from the contribution of officers and employees.

The campaign, now in its tenth day, has resulted so far in pledges of $1,390,022, or 37 per cent of the $3,700,000 goal, which will be attained when maximum yesterday reported $183,144 for the day. They will meet again tomorrow. The $35,000 gift was not confirmed in time to be included in yesterday's report or in the audited total of $1,390,022 for the campaign.

Other Increases in Gifts.

Nine other corporations, Stifel said, have increased their original contributions by a total of $45,000 as a result of suggestions made by the Committee of 100. This group of business and professional men, headed by Elmer A. H. Shepley, was asked to review contributions made through the larger subscriptions division with a view to determining whether each gift bears a proper relation to the gifts of others and to the total sought.

Increases in contributions over those of last year, were reported also by Carl S. Lawton, chairman of the employee division. As typical he cited employees of the Thimble & Fashion Shoe Co., whose $183 contribution was an increase of $109; Willink's Stationery Co., $550, an increase of $100; one office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., $555, an increase of $496; Wohl Shoe Co., $2638, an increase of $113; M. C. Cohn Manufacturing Co., $373, an increase of $198; Fouke Fur Co., $1929, an increase of $300; St. Louis Blow Pipe & Heater Co., $152, an increase of $143.

Donations by Divisions.

The auditors report showed 66,484 persons have contributed so far. The larger subscriptions division has obtained $798,000 from 1060 contributors; the employee division,

AMERIC DYSENTERY EXPERTS REPORT ON CHICAGO OUTBREAK

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The committee of experts which investigated last summer's outbreak of amoebic dysentery in Chicago holds that methods used to control the disease were "those generally recommended" and "in conformity with the best public health practice."

The committee's report made public an editorial which is to appear in the Feb. 3 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association along with a chronology of the detection of the disease. The editorial called attention to the general manner in which necessary steps were performed "developed" and "the way in which questionnaires, radio broadcasting and publicity were used to bring to light as many cases as possible in cities outside of Chicago."

The committee said "structural defects" in the plumbing of two hotels to which the disease was traced "were associated with the development of the epidemic." It was not until two months later that exhaustive study, the report stated, revealed "contamination of the water supply of portions of both hotels might have occurred."

To date in 206 cities, including Chicago, 721 cases of the disease have been reported. In Chicago 1049 carriers have been found. Total deaths have unofficially been set at 41.

Changes in Airways' Schedule. A new passenger schedule, from St. Louis to New York by way of Detroit and Buffalo, will be started tomorrow afternoon by American Airways. Passengers leaving St. Louis at 2:31 p. m. are scheduled to arrive at New York at midnight, after changing planes in Chicago. Night and express planes over the same route will leave here at 5:42 p. m., with arrival at New York the following morning at 6:36 o'clock.

$118,000,000 PROGRAM FOR THE ARMY AIR CORPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—A new five-year expansion program for the Army Air Corps providing for increased flying personnel, airplanes and equipment involving an expenditure of $118,000,000 is being drafted by Chairman McSwain (Dem.), South Carolina, of the House Military Committee.

In announcing that he would introduce necessary legislation this week, McSwain said it would call for an increase up to 3000 in planes fit for war service, an increase in officer personnel from 1250 to 2450 and an increase of about 4500 in enlisted personnel.

Of the total projected expenditure, McSwain said $45,000,000 would be for new planes and equipment. At present he said the army was supposed to have 1850 planes, of which "only about 900 are ready for wartime service."

A large part of expenditure, he said, would also go for additional hangars, machine shops and other equipment necessary for rounding out the air defense.

DRIVES HIS WIFE OUT OF HOUSE, ENDS LIFE

East St. Louis Packing House Laborer Shoots Self After Violent Quarrel.

Guy Wilkerson, 42-year-old packing house laborer, shot and killed himself last night at his home at 915½ Exchange avenue, East St. Louis, after a violent quarrel with his wife, Mabel, 12 years his junior, in which he beat her severely with a club.

Mrs. Wilkerson, bleeding from severe lacerations of the head and face, fled from the house at 8:15 o'clock and ran to the garage of a neighbor, from which she was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in an effort to save her life.

Policemen were interviewing her there when the ambulance returned to the hospital, this time carrying the body of Wilkerson, who had died from a bullet wound in the right temple.

Lloyd Wilkerson, 17 years old, Wilkerson's eldest child, told policemen that he left the house at the height of the quarrel between his father and stepmother. They frequently quarreled violently, he added. He said that when he returned he heard a shot and going to an upstairs bedroom found his father, who was dying.

Wilkerson had two other children, Leonard and Leonarine, who were not at home at the time of the fight. Mrs. Wilkerson refused to discuss the cause of the dispute.

SUES UNDERTAKER CHARGING DELAY IN BURIAL OF HUSBAND

Widow Seeks $50,000 Because Rites Were Not Finished Before Sundown.

Alleging her husband's burial was delayed until after sundown in violation of Jewish and Mosiac laws through interference by Herbert L. Berger, undertaker, Mrs. Rita Traub, 1411 Montclair avenue, charged with killing his wife, Rheta, was questioned by police yesterday.

In her petition, filed in Circuit Court by Samuel White, attorney, Mrs. Traub sets forth that preparations for the burial of her husband, Harry, were made with Oxenandler Funeral Directors, Inc., and that a grave was prepared at a family lot in Beth Hamadash Hagedot Cemetery.

Just before the time of burial, about 4:30 p. m., Jan. 23, she continued, while friends and relatives were assembled at the grave, Berger telephoned the cemetery and ordered a delay, causing "the remains to be lowered into the grave, and the burial concluded after dark, notwithstanding her insistence that the burial take place immediately and before dark, in conformance with ancient Jewish law.

Alleging her husband's burial was delayed until after sundown in violation of Jewish and Mosiac laws through interference by Herbert L. Berger, undertaker, Mrs. Rita Traub, 1411 Montclair avenue, charged with killing his wife, Rheta, was questioned by police yesterday.

For four weeks he has lived under the assumed name of Harry Clark in a rooming house near the Milwaukee Police Headquarters. His identity was disclosed yesterday when two detectives, investigating an anonymous tip, went across the street to question him. Taken to police headquarters, Traub was held for two and a half hours in the office of Detective Captain Frank Prohaska. He replied freely to questions and was released when police learned he was not wanted by Chicago authorities. Traub said he planned to leave soon for Arizona in search of work.

MAN'S DEATH LAID TO FALL

Inquest Will Be Held in Case of Frederick Schiele.

An inquest will be held in the death of Frederick Schiele, 68 years old, who was found lying on the floor at his home, 5329 Odell street, yesterday, after neighbors had noticed blood on the front walk.

Police investigation showed that Schiele apparently had stumbled on the front step, injuring his head, had gone into the house and had fallen again after seating himself on a chair. Officers learned that Schiele, a concrete worker, had been separated from his wife recently, after disagreements which arose from his excessive drinking.

RESERVE DISTRICT BUSINESS GAINS IN LAST 30 DAYS

Improvement "Quite Decided" Applies to All Lines Except Clothing and Coal Mining.

Improvement in general business in the Eighth Federal Reserve District in the last 30 days is noted in the monthly review of the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank, issued today.

The improvement for December and the early part of January is described as "quite decided" and as applying to all lines of production and merchandising, except the clothing industry and coal mining.

In earlier reports, the trend is measured in dollar volume and the review again notes that increases, accompanied with a year ago, may be attributable to some extent to higher prices.

Holiday trade in general, but particularly in the cotton producing states, was in larger volume than a year earlier, the December sales of department stores being 15.9 per cent greater than in December, 1932. Since Jan. 1, the review notes, there has been "a well-defined disposition to replenish, as reflected in orders placed with manufacturers and the wholesale and jobbing interests."

Higher prices for cotton, wheat and corn were of benefit to the agricultural sections, but cattle and hogs remained at about the low levels of recent months.

Some Seasonal Declines.

In some industries there was a seasonal decline in December business as compared with November, but in most cases this is described as less than usual. The iron and steel industry had such a decline, but the shipments of pig iron to the melting points were the largest since 1929.

The production of coal declined from November to December, and the output for the latter month was "moderately smaller," the report states, than a year earlier. Freight traffic interchanged by the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association showed slight gains for the month and the year. In 1933 there were 82,800 car loads interchanged against 77,732 in 1932. For December the figures were 64,684 in 1933 and 59,513 in 1932. In the first nine days of January, a small margin of gain was had. Passenger traffic, however, decreased 7 per cent in December, as compared with the same month in 1932.

Freight handled by the Federal

Bureau Line between St. Louis and New Orleans was 105,700 tons in December compared with 97,457 in November and 93,768 in December, 1932. For the year 1933 the line handled 1,206,916 tons compared with 1,291,983 in 1932.

Improvement in Collections.

Collections showed "steady improvement." Commercial failures were 32 in December compared with 30 in the same month of 1932. Consumption of electricity by industrial users was up 10.4 per cent in December as compared with a year earlier, but 12 per cent smaller than in November.

Postal receipts of the five largest cities of the district were 7 per cent less in the fourth quarter of 1933 than in the corresponding quarter of 1932.

Department stores sales of the principal cities showed the following percentages of increase in December, compared with the same month of 1932: Evansville, Ind., 18.4; Little Rock, Ark., 33.9; Louisville, Ky., 19; Memphis, Tenn., 26; Quincy, Ill., 32.2; Springfield, Mo., 16.5; St. Louis, 14.1.

For the year 1933, department store sales in the district were 4.1 per cent less than in 1932.

Building permits in the five largest cities, in dollar value, declined 45 per cent from November, but were 148 per cent higher than in December, 1932. Construction contracts were up 309 per cent over November and 106 per cent over December, 1932.

Financial and banking conditions underwent only minor changes. The demand for credit from commercial and industrial sources was quiet, but increased somewhat after the first week in January.

LA FOLLETTE SAYS MORGAN IS BEHIND FIGHT ON SEAWAY

Senator Charges Banker and Allies Seek to Destroy Administration and St. Lawrence Pact.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator La Follette (Rep.), Wisconsin, asserted in the Senate yesterday that the Morgan banking firm and its allied interests were seeking to destroy the administration and prevent ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

The same interests, he asserted, "are determined to prevent a public power development on the St. Lawrence River, like that at Muscle Shoals and Boulder Dam."

A strong supporter of the treaty, La Follette also assailed what he called the "vicious propaganda" against it by public utility and other "special interests." He said official reports sent to the Senate by President Roosevelt announced all arguments in minor reports of Senator Lewis (Deth.), Illinois, and Wagner (Dem.), New York.

Lewis "Belies Roosevelt Record."

He asserted the argument of Lewis that the power development had no place in the treaty and had been included "only because of the cunning of the negotiators for" the Dominion of Canada "belies the whole public record of Franklin D. Roosevelt as Governor of New York and impeaches his good faith and intelligence as President of the United States."

La Follette maintained the "parmount issue" before the Senate was not whether a seaway should be completed from the Great Lakes to the ocean, with free navigation for American ships, but "whether 1,100,000 horsepower should be developed by a public agency to compete with the great private power and utility companies dominated by J. P. Morgan & Co."

Listing the principal competitor of the proposed St. Lawrence power project as the Niagara Hudson Corporation, a Morgan concern, La Follette said Morgan & Co. likewise was the fiscal agent for the New York Central, the Michigan Central and other railroads running parallel to the seaway.

President's Study of Subject.

Quoting Lewis as having expressed the opinion that the President had "fallen into error in his conclusions" regarding the treaty, the Wisconsin Senator said the fact is the President has given the subject more consideration over a longer period of time than any member of this body."

"For five years," he said, "the President has been grappling with this question. He followed every step of the negotiations between the United States and Canada. He came to the conclusion, based upon repeated inspections of the site of this project and upon study of all phases, that four years as Governor of New York had done away with the incumbency as President, that the simultaneous development of the river for both power and navigation would result in a tremendous saving of public money and confer lasting benefits upon the people of New York and the nation."

Lewis, La Follette added, has only disclosed his own unfamiliarity with the subject matter of the treaty, and the narrow interests of the Chicago Sanitary District from which he views this great project in the speech he has made here belittling the intelligence of the President."

La Follette praised Wagner for "repudiating and rejecting" what he called misstatements of fact and false arguments and said the major point raised by the New Yorker—whether the cost of the project to the American people as a whole would be more than the estimated returns—had been completely answered in official reports which he said showed.

Net cost to the United States in construction cost, $182,726,250, assuming New York State pays $89,726,750 as its share in return for all American power benefits; annual cost of the seaway to the United States, including interest at 4 per cent, amortization of the entire cost of the project in 50 years, operation and maintenance, $9,300,000.

Less than 10 per cent of the total mileage of the waterway requires improvement to enable ocean-going cargo ships to navigate the entire 2300 miles from tidewater to Chicago or Duluth.

Export tonnage of 7,471,500 tons with indicated transportation savings of $44,810,923 annually; import tonnage 5,742,333 tons, with a saving of $34,082,207.

Illinois Argument "Preposterous."

On the Chicago diversion argument, La Follette's attack was particularly vigorous.

"I submit this whole question of diversion is not merely an international issue between the United States and Canada, but an issue between the Chicago Sanitary District and other states whose rights are equal to those of Illinois," he said.

"I assert it is an absurdity that the Senate should be asked to disregard the rights of seven other states, with 38 ports on the Great Lakes and connecting channels and sacrifice public power projects on the St. Lawrence in order to permit one state, with one port, to withdraw water from Lake Michigan, which is the engineering authority in the United States declares is wholly unnecessary for navigation purposes on the Illinois and Mississippi River."

"It is a preposterous proposition that Senators from that single state should set themselves up as guardians of the sovereignty of Lake Michigan and that they should perform the guardianship by seeking, on behalf of one port among all the states bordering on the great lakes system, to divert and extract an excessive amount of water to the detriment of sister states and a friendly neighboring nation."

Ready to Sow Discord.

He said it was a "vicious falsehood" that 80 per cent of the cost of the seaway was to be borne by the United States in Canada to pay Canadian workers and buy Canadian materials.

He said the "House of Morgan" and allied interests were behind the "false propaganda that conjures up war with Great Britain and Canada."

They are ready, he said, "to sow seeds of discord between two friendly nations."

Their propaganda is almost exclusively confined to navigation, but their real interest lies in blocking this development of power.

"The people of the Middle West are in no mood to tolerate this policy of obstruction. The House of Morgan, with all its vast influence and wealth, is not powerful enough to stand in the way of a public project that is vital to the development of this country. You cannot cheat 45,000,000 people of their birth right and sabotage the forward movement in transportation and industry and expect the people of the mid-continent to submit to it forever."

Asked to Accept Propaganda.

Until the President sent his message to the Senate, La Follette said, "we were asked to accept propaganda as fact."

He said every conclusion of the President was "butressed by officials."

He said opponents of the treaty had falsified "the simplest facts of geography in order to obstruct completion of the project and to intimidate the President and the Senate from carrying out the pledge for ratification made by candidates of both political parties in the last campaign."

La Follette maintained the "paramount issue" before the Senate was not whether a seaway should be completed from the Great Lakes to the ocean, with free navigation for American ships, but "whether 1,100,000 horsepower should be developed by a public agency to compete with the great private power and utility companies dominated by J. TALK OF CONDEMNING*LACLEDE GAS MAINS

Committee of Aldermen Weigh This Means of Putting in Natural Gas.

Feasibility of condemnation of the mains of the Laclede Gas Light Co. by the city, for distribution of straight natural gas to all consumers, is being considered by the Special Gas Committees of the Board of Aldermen.

The committee, holding its first meeting yesterday, decided to confer with Mayor Dickmann and the Board of Public Service shortly on the question of condemnation. An ordinance for this purpose would have to be initiated by the Board of Public Service. Associate City Counselor Ferris, who handles utility matters, assured the committee the city had the right to condemn the gas lines.

A resolution, calling on Attorney-General McKittrick to file suit in the Supreme Court of Missouri to determine whether Laclede Gas has a perpetual franchise, was adopted by the committee. The full board probably will be asked to pass on the resolution before the request is submitted. Ferris, who pointed out that no franchise may be held to be exclusive as well as the Circuit Attorney and the Attorney-General could file the desired quo warranto proceeding on the question of franchise permanence.

Alderman Hartley (Dem.) of the Fifteenth Ward announced, in the discussion of condemnation of the mains, that he did not favor entry of the city into the utility business. Ferris replied that a proposal by the city to distribute gas "might give you a club to reduce rates."

Natural gas is brought here from Louisiana, now by the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, which sells it to Laclede Gas and several industrial users. Laclede distributes a mixture of manufactured and natural gas. Asked by Aldermen if sale of the straight natural gas to consumers generally could be forced, Ferris said the city had intervened in a proceeding by the State Public Service Commission to declare Mississippi River Fuel, a public utility, subject to regulation.

Alderman Scott (Dem.) of the Twenty-first Ward, elected chairman of the committee, said it would hold further meetings and probably would have public hearings.

Laclede Gas operates under a franchise or charter granted by the Legislature in 1857, amended in 1868 as an grant proposed perpetual rights here. In 1927 Mayor Miller asked Attorney-General Gentry to file an ouster suit against the gas company, at the instigation of Union Electric Light & Power Co. Gentry refused, saying only the Board of Aldermen, not the Mayor, could bind the city. In 1932 the Board of Aldermen unanimously asked Attorney-General Sharlot to file the ouster case. Sharlot declined, asserting the ground of the request seemed to relate to rates rather than franchise validity.

Admiral Byrd and his flagship escaped from an ice trap early today. The flagship actually rammed encircling floes of ice in the narrow squeeze. The dash for liberty was made necessary when the wind changed and blew ice floes across the bay, almost bottling up the ship. It escaped only half an hour before the entrance was sealed.

Fourteen men, marooned at Pressure Camp and left off from the flagship of Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition, fought today for their lives and the expedition's supplies against crumbling ice and howling winds.

A crack opened yesterday afternoon behind the halfway relay depot a mile and a half from Pressure Camp, a temporary unloading base four miles from the water.

Fear was expressed by the leader that the outfit and its tons of stores cached there for transport to the permanent base at Little America, might be lost to the relentless ice movement. In the broken and pitted pressure ridge and crevasses west of Little America the isolated men struggled with dog teams to save the provisions.

AGAINST GRAPE JUICE TAX

House Committee Also Would Remove Fruit Juice Levy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The House Ways and Means Committee yesterday made known it had approved a proposal by Representative Reed (Rep.), New York, for the new general revenue bill to repeal the 5-cent a gallon tax on grape juice and the 2-cent a gallon tax on pure fruit juices.

"This tax has been nothing more than a nuisance and now that we have prohibition repeal, it is right that we should repeal this levy against the grape and fruit producers," Reed said.

$2500 CLAYTON FIRE DAMAGE

Bungalow Burns, House Half Block Away, Caught From Sparks.

Fire which started from an over-heated furnace caused $2500 damage yesterday to a five-room frame bungalow at 8019 Carondelet Avenue, Clayton, occupied by Daniel F. Eschenbrenner. Sparks from the burning roof, carried by a brisk northwest wind, set fire to the shingle roof of a building at 5 South Meramec avenue, half a block away, causing $200 damage.

Companies of the Clayton, University City and Richmond Heights fire departments responded to the alarm. Eschenbrenner said his loss was insured.

ADVERTISEMENT*DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to Remove It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it. When you remove it entirely. To do this, just get a small jar of Dandruff Remover from any drug store (it won't cost you more than thirty-five cents 35c), apply it at night when retiring, using enough to moisten the scalp and rubbing it in gently with the fingers.

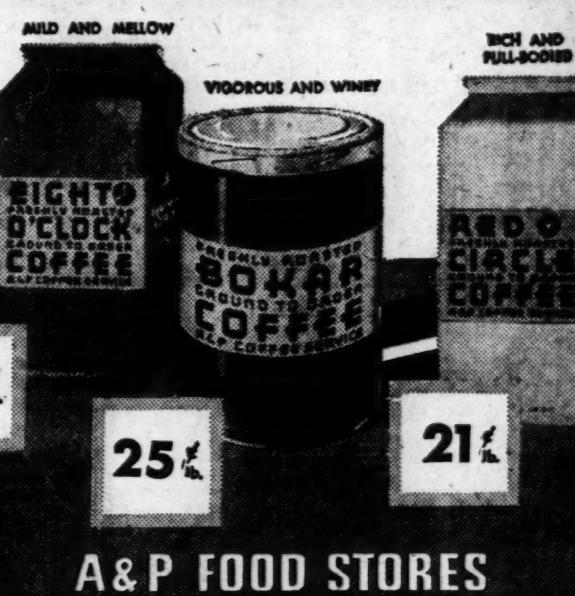

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely remove every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and dryness of the scalp will stop immediately and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look healthy and feel a hundred times better.

The sight of a barefooted young man, in hospital clothes clinging to the side of a northbound Beloit train, caused a stir at Thirteenth street and Clark avenue last night attracting the attention of police.

Taken off the car, he said he was Thomas Massaro, 1023 North Ninth street, and that he was on his way home. Investigation showed he had escaped from the observation ward at City Hospital by making a hole in a window screen and dropping about 10 feet to the ground. He was returned to the hospital.

MOTHERS...watch CHILD'S COLD

CORONAL head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take chances—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Musterole—by far the best.

Children's Musterole is just good old Musterole, only in milder form—bringing ease in five minutes, and relief in five hours as a rule.

It gets such marvelous results because it's NOT just a salve, but a "counter-irritant"—quick and helpful in drawing out pain and infection.

Used by millions for 25 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

SIX PROSECUTIONS ORDERED ON CWA GRAFT CHARGES

Accusations From Arkansas, Kentucky, Maryland and Indiana to Be Given to U. S. Attorneys.

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Criminal prosecutions of six charges of graft in the Civil Works Administration have been ordered by the division of investigation of the Public Works Administration.

At the request of Harry L. Hopkins, Civil Works Administrator, the division of public works has taken over the task of investigating complaints of labor preferences or graft in connection with civil works.

Of the six complaints which the division instructed its local investigators to place in the hands of United States Attorneys, three came from Kentucky, one from Maryland, one from Arkansas and one from Indiana.

The division is investigating more than 175 complaints about civil works in 45 states. When the Civil Works Administration originally asked the public works unit to investigate the charges, there embraced all states except Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. There still are no complaints from those three states.

Nature of Charges.

The charge in Maryland involves the minimum Civil Works Administration requisition for supplies, it being alleged that the requisition was presented to a liquor dealer and liquor obtained with it.

In Arkansas an official of the Civil Works Administration is involved. It is said he obtained part of a worker's pay. Payroll irregularities are alleged in Indiana.

To expedite prosecutions Louis R. Glavis, chief of the division, has instructed his officers that where there is "any possibility of criminal prosecution" the charges are to be turned over directly to United States Attorneys.

Job Preference Alleged.

Complaints of administrative irregularities, such as political preference in the giving of jobs, are to be turned over to Hopkins. This type usually is dealt with by dismissing offending officials.

At the same time public works officials disclosed they had begun to investigate charges made to the Department of Labor that preference had been shown in the giving of jobs through employment exchanges. Four such complaints are now being studied.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, Public Works Administrator, said there was a general tightening up within his own organization to prevent the padding of payrolls and construction costs. He announced that the organization of a new unit in the engineering division, to be known as the Cost of Construction Material Authority, to collect cost price data in every state. The new unit will be headed by Arch W. Loney, assigned to the post from the Public Works Division of Investigation. Money is being released by Ickes for projects only after careful scrutiny of the work in prospect and then only in small amounts.

Statement by Ickes.

Public works officials said the elaborate check-up system they had established and this method of disbursing funds was holding "to the minimum" complaints of padding on public works.

Ickes said the civil works was in no way under the jurisdiction of the Public Works Administration, its work being carried on separately under a $400,000,000 allotment from public works funds.

"The Civil Works Administration," he said, "has asked the Public Works Administration for certain assistance and use of facilities and has adopted some policies which had already been formulated by the Public Works Administration, while other policies of the two administrations differ because of the varying methods by which they are established."

The Public Works Administration has provided and continues to provide any assistance to the Civil Works Administration which it is able to furnish and which is desired.

The Public Works Administration has not taken and will not take any action in civil works matters other than as requested by the Civil Works Administration, to which all desired assistance will be offered."

$200,000,000 CATTLE BENEFIT APPROVED BY HOUSE GROUP

Ranked as Basic Commodity Under AAA in Measure Requested by Secretary Wallace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The House Agriculture Committee approved legislation yesterday to include cattle as a basic commodity under the Agricultural Adjustment Act and appropriate $200,000,000 for benefits to cattle and dairy men.

Secretary Wallace who asked for the legislation, has told the cattle raisers no plan could be worked out for them until they were under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. He also assured them a program would not be formulated without their cooperation.

The cattlemen are opposed to an immediate processing tax.

PREDICTS JAPAN
WILL HAVE BIGGER
NAVY THAN U. S.

Admiral Osumi Makes Statement in Diet as to Relative Strength by End of 1936.

TALK OF BREAK WITH WASHINGTON

Member of Peers Says There Will Be Rupture if Leaders of Sea Forces Have Their Way.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Jan. 31.—The Minister of the Navy told the House of Representatives today that new auxiliary vessels of the Japanese navy would outrank those of the United States at the end of 1936 and a member of the House of Peers declared that if naval men had their way relations between the two nations would be ruptured.

Admiral Mineo Osumi, the head of the Navy Ministry, offered statistics to show how the two navies would compare when the present naval treaty expired.

The suggestion of the possibility of a rupture was made by Kenichiro Yoshizawa, former Foreign Minister, during question time in the House of Peers.

He told his audience that if the Japanese and American navies were to dictate the programs with which their respective governments enter the naval conference scheduled for 1935, "a rupture would be inevitable leading, if the pessimists' view is accepted, to intensified naval competition—even if war is averted."

Suggests Abandoning Farley.

"In view of these dangers," he said, "perhaps it would be better to abandon the conference altogether unless preliminary negotiations showed clearly the possibility of an agreement."

Koki Hirota, Foreign Minister, who was present, expressed a general but vague concurrence with Yoshizawa's views.

The Admiral did not mention Great Britain or any other power, but confined himself to a comparison of the Japanese and United States navies as of the end of 1936 when the present naval treaties may expire.

Osumi's statement followed several days of debate in the House on naval policy. Previously the Minister of the Navy had emphasized Japan's determination to increase its strength at the next conference of naval powers although he declined to indicate the extent of the Japanese demands. He likewise declined to state whether Japan would denounce the Washington naval treaty prior to Dec. 31, 1934, in accordance with the treaty's provisions.

Instead, he told his questioners: "We have almost a year to decide that point."

Statistics on Navies.

Osumi's statistics on naval strength at the end of 1936 showed the following in terms of Japanese tonnage to that of the United States:

Total navy, including over-age tonnage, 68 per cent; total navy, excluding over-age tonnage, 81 per cent; total auxiliaries (cruisers, destroyers, submarines) including over-age, 78 per cent; total auxiliaries excluding over-age, 100 per cent.

The tonnage under-age auxiliary figures themselves, as given by Osumi, showed the following comparison: Japan, vessels 140, tons 364,000; United States, vessels 100, tons 23,000.

At the time specified by the Naval Minister Japan's entire auxiliary fleet will be under the treaty age and within 2781 tons of the treaty limits.

Excluding the over-age tonnage the Japanese ratio to the United States navy will be as follows, Osumi indicated:

Capital ships, 60 per cent; aircraft carriers, 60 per cent; heavy cruisers, 71 per cent; light cruisers, 89 per cent; destroyers, 70 per cent; submarines, 100 per cent.

Including the over-age tonnage the ratio would be as follows:

Capital ships, 62 per cent; aircraft carriers, 65 per cent; heavy cruisers, 71 per cent; light cruisers, 89 per cent; destroyers, 156 per cent; submarines, 162 per cent.

The Japanese superiority as predicted by Osumi was thus shown as most definitely marked in the categories of destroyers and submarines.

American House Passes Bill for Treaty-Strength Navy.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The House passed the Vinson navy bill yesterday calling for 102 new fighting ships, to bring the numerical strength of the United States navy up to 240 ships by 1939 at a cost estimated by navy officers at $570,000,000.

The bill provides for an increase of the navy to treaty strength.

Numerically, the number of fighting ships when the navy reaches its treaty strength will be less than

Osumi's statistics on naval strength at the end of 1936 showed the following naval power of Japan in comparison to that of the United States:

Use of Credit by the Consumer Rather Than Credit Expansion, Country's Need, Says Cutting*Progressive Republican Senator Thinks Central Federal Agency Is Needed—New Deal Must Get Better Results.By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The attitude of the Senate's Progressive Republican bloc toward the New Deal program is one of watchful waiting. They are supporting the program in the main, but some of them, at least, are convinced that it cannot succeed unless the administration takes further steps—more effective than any yet taken—to restore the lost purchasing power of the people.

"What we think of the statement now proposed," it seems, "is that the consumer and the wage earner are one and the same person. So we are asking the wage earner to pay his own wages. We are asking the consumer to subsidize the rise of prices which he will have to pay. We are trying to pull ourselves over the fence by our bootstraps."

"There are still 6,000,000 Americans walking the streets. There are 4,000,000,000 in Government bonds today," says the senator, "and the second proposal, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for orderly liquidation was presented yesterday to the Senate Banking Committee by Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman.

Attention of the committee was called to the fact that at least one of the largest railroads in the country was severely handicapped by provisions of the Glass-Steagall act, and that additional funds from underwriting bond issues.

The new plan would allow the corporation to lend money for 10 years to railroads which are selling bonds, instead of the present limit of three years with a two-year extension.

Jones also discussed the possibility of liberalizing the corporation's charter so it could finance exports of manufacturers, especially heavy machinery.

I. C. Has the Same Problem.

He said that two parts of the Government program, and two alone, accounted for the whole of the progress toward the goal of restored purchasing power. One was the CWA, which had actually brought money where money was needed, and the other was the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

"However, proposals we may consider the theory under which that act operates," he explained, "it has actually brought some help to some people who are going to spend their allotment checks on consumption."

"Outside of that, what have we got? We have an NRA, which is based on the plan that the worker-consumer is going to pay the cost of providing himself with increased wages. We have the Public Works Administration which, up to date, in the seven months of its existence, has expended grants to states and municipalities the sum of $50,000,000, as compared with the $20,000,000 spent by the CWA in a few weeks."

"All the relief agencies of the past fiscal year have spent a total of $700,000,000; yet the total emergency expenditures of the Government are listed at seven and a half billion dollars."

"There is something wrong with that system. We have got to do something about it, and we cannot do it by discussing a bill (the gold bill) which is not going to help one hungry human being—which is not going to increase the purchasing power one penny unless it is followed up by subsequent legislation."

Finds Owen Young Sound.

"I do not often have occasion to quote the remarks of Owen D. Young, yet I believe that what Mr. Young said at the hearings on the bill is entirely sound. He said: 'It is not expansion of credit that we need. It is the use of credit. We must have eight or ten billions of internal potential credit in our banking system, and we cannot get it used.'

"The place we want credit," continued Cutting, "is in the hands of the consumer. Three or four years ago people thought you were crazy when you talked about equating the purchasing power of the country with the productive power. Now everybody recognizes in speech that this must be done; we talk about purchasing power, but we take little action about it."

"The Government is going to have to finance the consumer as a consumer—not primarily as a worker—and it is going to have to do this very soon. It can be done only through the establishment of some central governmental agency—call it a central bank or what you will—which will monopolize the credit system of the country for the benefit of the public and not for the benefit of the bankers. Such an agency must eventually absorb the present Federal Reserve System holds today. No Government should delegate to private interests the control over the purchasing power of money."

Urge Federal Authority With Sole Currency-Issuing Powers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—J. H. Rand, chairman of the Committee for the Nation, urged a House Banking subcommittee today to approve a bill for establishment of a Federal monetary authority with sole currency issuing powers.

"The Government is going to have to finance the consumer as a consumer—not primarily as a worker—and it is going to have to do this very soon. It can be done only through the establishment of some central governmental agency—call it a central bank or what you will—which will monopolize the credit system of the country for the benefit of the public and not for the benefit of the bankers. Such an agency must eventually absorb the present Federal Reserve System holds today. No Government should delegate to private interests the control over the purchasing power of money."

More Cigarettes, Fewer Cigars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Cigarette smoking increased in 1933 but the consumption of cigars dropped off. Detailed internal revenue figures showed today that stamp taxes were paid on 111,763,441,148 cigars in 1933, a decrease of 8,000,000 in comparison with the figure of the previous year. Cigar consumption on a basis of stamp taxes was 4,244,752,333, a decline of nearly 100,000.

That of the navy in the fall of 1919, 240 compared with 359 ships then listed fit for service.

Navy officials decline for obvious reasons to discuss the speed and cruising range of the new ships, either on the ways or to be put there under the gunnery masters. Generally, it is understood, the speed has been increased in a proportion less than that of the cruise range. The substitution of oil for coal as fuel is the answer for the increased cruising radius.

In this broadened cruising range is found a partial answer to one of the navy's strategy problems—lack of naval bases except in the remote Pacific.

The new ships will have "blister" hull construction, double hulls with oil to take up the concussion of underwater explosions that ordinarily crumple plates.

In the air, the treaty navy will both augment its offense and defense, build a fifth aircraft carrier to float a new swarm of planes and, on the defensive side, equip itself with anti-aircraft large caliber and machine guns of new design and highly improved accuracy.

10-YEAR RAILROAD LOAN PLAN DRAWN BY RFC CHAIRMAN*Jones Suggests That Corporation Advance the Necessary Money While Banks Are Selling Bonds.*PROPOSAL GIVEN SENATE COMMITTEE*Also Discusses Liberalizing Charter So Exports of Manufacturers Might Be Financed.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—A plan designed to assist several large railroad systems marketing long-term securities and the second proposal to expand the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for orderly liquidation was presented yesterday to the Senate Banking Committee by Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman.

Attention of the committee was called to the fact that at least one of the largest railroads in the country was severely handicapped by provisions of the Glass-Steagall act.

The new plan would allow the corporation to lend money for 10 years to railroads which are selling bonds, instead of the present limit of three years with a two-year extension.

Jones also discussed the possibility of liberalizing the corporation's charter so it could finance exports of manufacturers, especially heavy machinery.

I. C. Has the Same Problem.

He said that two parts of the Government program, and two alone, accounted for the whole of the progress toward the goal of restored purchasing power. One was the CWA, which had actually brought money where money was needed, and the other was the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

"However, proposals we may consider the theory under which that act operates," he explained, "it has actually brought some help to some people who are going to spend their allotment checks on consumption."

"Outside of that, what have we got? We have an NRA, which is based on the plan that the worker-consumer is going to pay the cost of providing himself with increased wages. We have the Public Works Program.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—The Hitler Government, plans to spend 5,500,000,000 reichsmarks (about $2,000,000,000) in what Hjalmar Schacht, Reichsbank president, termed "mortgaging the future income expected from taxes."

Dr. Schacht's term was used in an article written by him for the annual Reichsbank almanac, where he stressed the necessity of strict supervision of credits and a stable currency.

Dr. Schacht took the occasion to deny that the expenditures planned by the Hitler Government were inflationary in character. He wrote that "the program is being financed by utilizing beforehand revenues from taxation expected to be collected in the next four years from a continually growing trade."

Despite the efforts of the Nazi government, unemployment jumped to 400,000, unemployment as compared with November. It was explained that the cold weather forced suspension of much outdoor work in the Nazi program.

Already 2,334,000,000 reichsmarks have been granted to various schemes out of the five and one-half billions allotted. The entire program calls for quasi productive works as follows: Hard roads, house repairs, land improvement, roads, canals, rivers, housing, excavations, transportation.

PROBLEMS OF PLANNING AHEAD.

Although originally conceived as a means of helping the railroads meet the emergency, the plan, Jones explained, would permit the corporation to arrange with banks and others that have borrowed, for semi-annual or annual installments on their loans. Jones said that if banks or business establishments could get their obligations into shape where they could be paid off at stated intervals instead of all coming due at once they would be able to plan ahead.

This was especially true, he said, of long-term loans for industrial purposes. These loans are secured by slow collateral and might not be paid off when due.

The corporation can finance shipments of manufactures in export trade at present through purchase from banks of export drafts, but the law allows these to run only one year. This has been said to be too short a period for exporters who sell on time. The question of liberalizing this clause was briefly discussed, but no recommendations made.

Prof. Koebner of Frankfurt Dies.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Prof. Otto Koebner, prominent British physician, in the heart of the business district here today, as crowds jammed the streets. As Dr. Robertson entered his motor car the four men threw out his chauffeur, took control of the automobile and drove it away at high speed.

Dr. Robertson, who was a Captain in the British Army during the war, struggled so desperately that he was unable to get out of the car as they reached the suburbs. A bit farther on the car was abandoned.

Creation of a general Treasury council with several assistants to specialize on income tax evasion was proposed to House Ways and Means Committee Democrats by Roswell Magill, Morgenthau's tax adviser.

Mr. Koebner, who died yesterday, was a San Francisco lawyer.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be dramatic, independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Redistribution of Wealth.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE read with interest H. D.'s letter, suggesting that $1,000,000 be the maximum that any individual be allowed to accumulate for his own use, any amount in excess of this to be placed in a Government fund to be used for unemployment insurance, health promotion, parks and playgrounds for children.

This suggestion, if carried out, would doubtless work very considerable improvements in the social structure, assuming as it would, to the people as a whole.

However, if measures are not found to place in the hands of the vast majority of people a greater direct share of the national income, there can be no such condition as national prosperity.

In other words, a greater distribution of goods must be made. To preach the gospel of national prosperity (a prosperity that is generously possible today) without insisting upon a wide distribution of incomes is to strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. One of the causes about to be swallowed at the moment is the limitation of production, because even production capacity production in most lines could not be consumed were there sufficient general purchasing power, but because production is to be limited to just whatever level of purchasing power happens to exist under the present money-making economy.

To use what seems to be an exaggeration to illustrate the working of such a principle, one may say that in 1930 men might be working two hours a day, by reason of further improvement in manufacturing processes, and yet receive the same amount of income as today. The owners of productive wealth may be forced to reduce hours of labor in order that men may eat, but to find ways and means to distribute the good things of life, they can find none.

But, alas, we can excuse the rich, for to let go their grasp within the mad arena of competition for money would be to perish. This economic order is like the official system in Dickens' "Cheap Patriotic." It is "upside down, and the roots are at the top." The way it is is the way the individual is. While we are able to distinguish between fact and fiction, they will then be better prepared to emancipate themselves from this cross of Midas.

They must know that cotton grows in a field; that wool grows on a sheep; that the art of weaving is thousands of years old; that steel was wrought in days of yore; that King Solomon built a better house than the skyscraper today; that the scientist, the inventor, the mechanical engineer, the architect, the accountant burned the midnight oil; that the farmer tilled the field; that the laborer wielded the hammer and the pick; and that the clerk ground out figures of commerce—all did a useful and important and necessary work to make the world what it could be today. Who says any of these may not justly insist upon a better way when they see it is possible and practicable?

C. W.

Encircled From the Dictionary.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I HAVE just read the dispatch from Chicago on the decision of the Chicago Tribune to simplify the spelling system.

I haven't seen him yet, that is, my pal on the city desk here, but I know he will join me in singing the Tribune's praises. Our biggest job here has been to refer a dozen times a day to the dictionary to see how a word is spelled. The Tribune movement has given me an idea. We can go along now and spell 'em any way. Nobody to stop us, now that the Tribune has taken off.

My pal and I long ago decided that Webster was a rotten speller, but we were too small fry to come out publicly and say so. What a joy now, what a comfort, to drop a letter here, there and everywhere.

And the young teachers, who have been worrying along in an effort to get Young America into the habit of spelling correctly, can breathe a sigh of relief. They can cut our spelling in the public school system altogether and have the Tribune originate its phonetic or "what-you-may-call-it" system for them.

PAUL K. PIRMAN.

Fulton, Mo.

Fighting the Smoke Evil.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Y LOUIS' greatest drawback as a place in which to live and do business—hits the nail on the head. There will be no relief from this hideous, insanitary condition until a fuel cheaper than soft coal is found. Gas for heating all buildings, public and private, should be the best solution, or coke or electricity.

The trouble is, the inferior grades of soft coal can be hauled in trucks from the near-by Illinois mines for cheaper than gas, coke or electricity can be supplied under present conditions. Amid the changes brought by the New Deal, Mayor Dieckmann should appoint a high-class non-salaried committee to consider the subject from a practical standpoint.

If the existing utilities and corporations, with an assured volume of business making a large profit, cannot be induced to sell smoke-free fuel at a price low enough to drive out soft coal as a domestic fuel, then the city would be justified in supplying gas, coke or electricity on a basis that would accomplish that result.

INSURANCE REFORM IN MISSOURI.

Because of acute public interest in liquor control, revenue legislation and other subjects before the Legislature, its passage of a sheaf of insurance laws went almost unnoticed. We should like, therefore, to emphasize that these laws constitute one of the most important reforms in the history of insurance regulation in Missouri. In the opinion of qualified authorities, they lift Missouri to a par with many of the Eastern states, whose insurance laws are looked upon as models.

Missouri's action is a sequel to the failure of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. last summer, which disclosed all sorts of ill-smelling practices. In an editorial of last Sept. 8, we said: "Even more tragic than the collapse of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. would be Missouri's failure to profit by the lessons it teaches." About two weeks later, R. E. O'Malley, State Superintendent of Insurance, announced he would formulate amendments to the insurance laws, and would ask Gov. Park to include them in his call for a special session. Gov. Park did so, and the entire program, as presented by Mr. O'Malley, was passed.

Never was so profound a reform achieved in Missouri more quickly or with less opposition. We have criticised the special session on other scores. We offer it, as well as Mr. O'Malley and Gov. Park, our heartiest commendation on this fine piece of work.

At one swoop it cleans up 30 years of mistakes in Missouri insurance administration and will bring

RAILROAD EQUIPMENT AND THE HEAVY INDUSTRIES.

Of the $129,607,800 allotted for loans to railroads, the Government has thus far signed contracts for loans totalling $82,500,000.

Secretary Ikes announces that work on contracts covering the remaining $100,000,000 is being pushed forward rapidly, so that the import of the entire amount may soon be felt by the capital goods industries. The PWA administrator announced last week that a check for $6,900,000 had been mailed to the Pennsylvania as the first grant under the $77,000,000 allotment made to that road for electrification and for construction of freight cars. He also stated that he had approved contracts for $3,500,000 to the New Haven and $2,000,000 to the Lehigh. These loans are for repairing and rebuilding equipment.

Other contracts will be signed and the money allotted as soon as possible, but the difficulty of the job is evidenced by the fact that the contract with the Pennsylvania required 200 written pages.

The delay in making these loans is unfortunate, since it impedes recovery in the heavy industries. It is no secret that one of the chief causes of delay has been the failure of some of the equipment people to sign NRA codes. The codes are the sine qua non of all such Federal aid. All the railroads need equipment. Quite a number of them have not really added anything to their rolling stock for years. The construction of locomotives, for instance, has been almost at a standstill for the past two years. It is to be hoped that all delays will be terminated as soon as possible.

Certainly, the self-interest of the equipment companies which have no codes must impel them to get them. The railroad industry ramifies into so many lines of manufacturing that there can be no general upturn when it is not buying equipment. Its return to the equipment market, now to be accelerated by Federal loans, explains the growing number of smoking stacks in the St. Louis industrial district.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. — ORD of Herbert Hoover's forthcoming visit to New York gave Washington its biggest political thrill of the year. Speculation immediately ran riot as to the real meaning of the trip. No one took seriously the statement that the ex-President is coming East solely because of "private business." Too much is going on behind the political scenes to accept that simple explanation. First there is the increased activity and aggressiveness of the Republicans against the Administration. Second, there is the Hoover opposition to Hiram Johnson's re-election as Senator. Finally, there is the bitter undercover struggle going on among Republicans for control of the party machinery.

It is an open secret that powerful elements, led by Indiana's ex-Senator Jim Watson, and Charley Hines, New York national committeeman, are busily preparing to dislodge the present Hooverite domination.

Pending Mr. Hoover's arrival, the politicos are swapping stories about him. The latest is about a speech he made at the last annual jamboree of San Francisco's famous Bohemian Club, of which he is a member.

According to Republican versions, the gay evening was drawing to a close when the master of ceremonies, without noticing Mr. Hoover, asked him if he wouldn't say a few words of how it felt to be an ex-President." Mr. Hoover rose and said:

"I spend my time chiefly enjoying the privilege of living in California. In the morning I look out from my window over Santa Clara Valley and think 'how good it is to live in California.'

"Then I turn to my correspondence. After that is finished I look out over Santa Clara Valley and think 'How good it is to live in California!' Then I take a motor ride or walk, and think 'How good it is to live in California! Finally in the evening I again look out over Santa Clara Valley, yawn a bit, and think 'How good it is to live in California.'

With this, Mr. Hoover sat down. There was some laughter and applause and the program proceeded.

As the gathering was breaking up, a guest who obviously had not confined his thirst to ice water, approached the ex-President, slapped him on the back and said:

"You know, you sounded just like that guy, Hoover."

Where Honor Is Due.

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR will be Chief of Staff under a Democratic administration, but the Army is non-political—sometimes—and the General does not mind getting a helping hand from the Republican National Committee.

Recently John Cal O'Laughlin, assistant executive of the committee organization here, proposed the award of medals to those Army officers who had conducted the best Citizens' Conservation Camp during the past year. Robert Fehner, CCC director, approved the idea.

Then O'Laughlin proposed bringing all the deserving officers—about 30—into Washington for a banquet. Again Fehner approved.

PUBLIC MEETINGS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

The State Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of St. Louis will hold a meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at Debs Hall, 2101 Lynch street, to discuss liquor legislation pending before the Board of Aldermen. The association is composed mostly of former saloon keepers.

It was the condition last winter. It is the condition now. In the complete paralysis of men and in lack of confidence in institutions, in banks and in the processes of American life. This is the reason why the President could not have succeeded in following the advice of conservative statesmen and taken only those measures in the cold theory of the business are supposed to promote recovery. A people among whom there was not suffering but fierce resentment against who in the calamity had been sheltered or had even improved their relative position.

to the Government which ignores the terrible. In the depths to which we sank last March, it was as necessary to up the mass of the people that they should know what it was to be poor. To create the popular consciousness necessary to the success of a program, to its enactment, to its adoption, to its fulfillment, there had to remedy for the profound sense of inferiority produced by the experiences reported in the figures I gave you.

not say these things for the purpose of giving a blanket endorsement to every man and every policy. I think some of us have made mistakes. But I do mean to point out that the strategy of the President has been right because it is based on the understanding that he will give the people bread and justice, not wealth and circuses, as a demagogic dictator has done.

there is a deeper lesson to be learned from these experiences. It is that we can no longer take the risk of treating the business as a visitation of nature which must pass. Since the last great depression there have been changes in the world. One of them is that the livelihood of the people has become increasingly dependent on a combination of two organizations: individuals can do little for themselves; that is the mass of people have to go to school, are conscious of their powers and will not passively accept the destruction of their standards of life. The people are no longer willing to look upon social classes as beyond human control.

consequence is that any prolonged violent change in the distribution of power is a profound threat to the whole order and the existence of political institutions. That is why the search for measures and instruments of control—the "dictatorial duty" of those who wish to ensure a long future for our civilization.

RENAISSANCE AND CELTIC FIVES MEET AT COLISEUM TONIGHT

ONE PRO BASKET TEAM HAS WON 60 OF 62 GAMES, OTHER 45 OF 46

PROBABLE LINEUPS

CELTICS

F.	F.	Renaissance
Banks	...	Jones
Lapchick	(C)	Ricks
Dehnert	C.	Cooper
Hickey	G.	Meyer
Barry	G.	Saitch
Hutts	G.	Holt
Sparks	G.	Smith
White	Shepard	Nykros

Time of halves—20 minutes.
Starting time—8:30 p.m.

The greatest array of basketball talent ever gathered on one floor in the Middle West will clash for the national professional cage title in the Coliseum tonight, when the Original Celtic team of Cleveland meets the Renaissance (Negro) five of New York in the deciding game of a three-game series. The contest will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Coming into St. Louis with two of the most remarkable records ever established in modern athletics are two teams, evenly matched and in the best of physical condition, bid fair to establish an attendance for basketball games in this section.

Both teams are in seclusion today, the Rens having arrived yesterday and the Celts early this morning. The Negro champions came from Fort Wayne, winding up a road schedule that brought their season's record to 45 victories and one defeat. Their only loss was at the hands of the Celts in their second meeting at Cleveland Jan. 4. That game was won by Jonesboro, where they hung up their sixtieth victory in 62 contests. One loss came while they were trying out some "rookies" and the other was administered by the Renaissance five in New York early in December.

150 High School Squads.

It is doubtful if any game staged here before has attracted the attention of this, and George Sisler, promoter of the contest, says that at least 150 high and prep school coaches with their teams will attend in groups. Washington and St. Louis University teams will view the game from floor seats, as will the Sugar Creekans and the Lincoln University squad from Jefferson City.

Max Rosenblum of Cleveland, owner of the Celtic team, arrived today and stated that his boys are in the best possible condition to regain the championship that they lost last season to the Renaissance.

"Iron Out Wrinkles."

The Rens are quite confident as the Celts and their season's play was arranged to give them a full day of rest here yesterday, which they enjoyed by canceling two exhibition engagements at local high schools.

Manager Illidge sees nothing but victory for the Renaissance quintet and he dropped a hint that his boys have worked out a few "wrinkles" since they were defeated by the Celts in Cleveland and that they were prepared to play the same game here tonight.

Charles "Tarzan" Cooper, Capt. Clarence "Fat" Jenkins, William "Talgo" Smith, Eyer "Bruiser" Saitch, Johnny Holt and "Pappy" Ricks comprise the Rens squad, giving both teams two substitutes.

Substitutes, however, will mean little in the outcome of the game, as four personal fouls will not eliminate a player. Otherwise, strictly college rules will prevail.

Miller Nykros and Don White of St. Louis and Washington Universities, respectively, and Sam Shepard, director of physical education in the Negro schools, will officiate.

Promoter Sisler announced that $300 gallery seats, at 40 cents each, would be put on sale at the Jefferson avenue entrance to the Coliseum at 7 o'clock, the time that the doors open.

TWO SWIMMING MARKS FALL AT DOWNTOWN 'Y'

Two pool records were broken as the Downtown Y. M. C. A. swimming team defeated the North Side Y. M. C. A., 50 points to 30, last night at the YMCA, 17th and C. A. The downtown medley relay team of Heldeman, Berendt and Schaefer broke the 150-yard mark by swimming the distance in 1:29.8. The old mark was 1:31.5. Bill Klessing of the North Siders swam the 150-yard backstroke in 1:51.3, to lower the old record by 2.4 seconds. Homer Heldeman, who held the old record, finished second.

The results:

100-YARD BACK STROKE—Won by Berendt. Downtown: second, Nielsen; third, Swenson, Downtown. Time: 1:29.8.

150-YARD BACK STROKE—Won by Klessing. North Side: second, Heldeman; third, Schaefer. Time: 1:51.3.

200-YARD FREE—Won by Berendt. Downtown: second, Nielsen; third, Schaefer. Time: 59.54.

220-YARD RELAY—Won by Nielsen. Downtown: second, Nielsen; North Side: third, Traugott. Downtown. Time: 20.26.

DIVING—Won by Schumacher. Downtown: second, Brooks. Downtown: third, Nielsen. North Side: 81.7-100.

220-YARD RELAY—Won by Downtown. Berendt, Heldeman and Schaefer. Time: 1m 43.2s.

150-YARD MEDLEY RELAY—Won by Downtown (Heldeman, Berendt and Schaefer). Time: 1m 29.4s.

More Than 30 Basketball Teams Already Have Entered Tourney Sponsored by Post-Dispatch

Entry Blank for the Post-Dispatch Church Basketball Championship

We the officers of the ..... Church
Team do hereby make entry into the Division checked: Men's Senior ..... Intermediate Boys' ..... (A separate entry blank should be made for each division if you are entering more than one team.) Our team plays in the following organized basketball league: Name ..... League President ..... Name ..... League Manager ..... Address ..... Address ..... Home and Business Telephones ..... Home and Business Telephones .....

Eligibility Rules

Each team must abide by its league rules and any violation of said rules will suspend the offending team from further competition. If you wish to enter a team that does not belong to an organized league you may enter provided your eligibility is approved by the tournament committee. All players of a team must be members in good standing of the church since January 1, 1934. A team roster must accompany all entry blanks, and must be certified by the pastor of the church.

By James M. Gould.

That the Post-Dispatch Greater St. Louis Church Basketball Tournament idea has scored a direct hit is indicated by the receipt, in the first two days of more than 30 entries for the event, which begins Feb. 12 will close with semi-final play on Feb. 21 and the finals on Feb. 22. Thus, about one-fourth of the entries expected already have been received.

With entries closing Feb. 7, eight days remain for those teams wishing to participate to file their intention of doing so, but officials in charge urge early entry, so that preliminary preparations for starting play may be completed. All preliminary games will be contested in church gyms in various sections of the city and county, with semifinals at Washington U. and St. Louis U. and the finals at the Washington Field House.

No Expense Attached.

There is no entry fee nor is there any expense attached to the tournament for competing teams. Eligibility rules are of the simplest. The certification of the pastor of each church that players of his team were members of the congregation on Jan. 1, 1934, is all that is necessary for entry.

One of the leagues from which a large entry is expected is the South Side Sodality League. This is one of the oldest church basketball leagues in the district, having been organized 15 years ago, with four teams. After the year of competition, the league was disbanded, but three years ago, was reorganized by Tony Sestric, who was elected president.

Sestric organized a league composed of four senior and four junior teams in basketball and also an eight-club baseball league. Pressure of business forced the resignation of Sestric, but the league was continued under a Board of Governors, of which he was chosen chairman.

Efficient officials will be named to take charge of the games, and suitable awards, denoting championships in the three classes, will be made after play is completed.

In charge of the tournament is Roy Newsome, widely known basketball official. As chairman, he will be assisted by Mr. Coffin, Mr. Bill Littman and Louis Coffin meeting for the Class A. team, and Bill Weitz and Dave Goldstein meeting for the Class B. team.

Littman won from Morris Wexler, 21-7, 21-11, last night, while Coffin won from Irwin Golub by default, because Golub strained a ligament in his left leg when he won his quarterfinal match Sunday.

Weitz, first seed in Class B, won easily from Milton Linder, 21-7, 21-20, as did Goldstein from Julius Kantor, 21-5, 21-15.

It Is Apparent Hafey Doesn't Like Walking

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 31. HICK HAFEEY, star outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, admitted today he had turned down the manager's job of the Reds because "it's too long a walk from the outfield to the bench."

Hafey gave his reason without revealing his name, but explained: "A playing outfielder is a distinct disadvantage managing a ball club. He is too far away from the actual play and in order to become a part of the play and to properly direct it, he must travel back and forth from the outfield to the mound constantly."

"That will take a lot out of any ball player and, while he might still be a success as a manager, as a player, he is bound to suffer."

It was revealed that he turned down the offer of Larry McPhail, new head of the Reds, when McPhail recently made a special trip here to offer him the management of the team.

By James M. Gould.

That the Post-Dispatch Greater St. Louis Church Basketball Tournament idea has scored a direct hit is indicated by the receipt, in the first two days of more than 30 entries for the event, which begins Feb. 12 will close with semi-final play on Feb. 21 and the finals on Feb. 22. Thus, about one-fourth of the entries expected already have been received.

With entries closing Feb. 7, eight days remain for those teams wishing to participate to file their intention of doing so, but officials in charge urge early entry, so that preliminary preparations for starting play may be completed. All preliminary games will be contested in church gyms in various sections of the city and county, with semifinals at Washington U. and St. Louis U. and the finals at the Washington Field House.

The Triple A volleyball team won from the M. C. A. squad in a three-game match last night at the three teams coming under the classes listed for the tournament, all may enter. There is no restriction.

Y. M. H. A. HANDBALL FINALS TOMORROW

Finals in the Y. M. H. A. singles four-handball tournament will be played tomorrow night, with Bill Littman and Louis Coffin meeting for the Class A. team, and Bill Weitz and Dave Goldstein meeting for the Class B. team.

It is important for team managers to note that places will be in their divisions, as that criterion will be used in the proper classifications.

WEINSTOCK IS RANKED NO. 1 IN JUNIOR TENNIS

By Dawson Oberar.

ROBERT WEINSTOCK, University City High School star, was awarded first place in the official junior singles ranking of the St. Louis District Tennis Association for 1933 based on his showing during the past season. Weinstock was finalist in the district junior event and reached the semi-finals of the municipal championship.

SCHOOL COACHES TRANSFERRED; BASKET TEAMS SUFFER LOSSES

By Harold Tuthill.

A shake-up by the Board of Education of faculty members at the various high schools resulted in the transfer of two athletic coaches—Leo Granger of Soldan and Ray "Doc" Singer of Cleveland—it was learned yesterday.

In view of the crowded condition of the high school grade school centers have been organized where eighth and ninth grades will be taught, so a number of teachers were picked from the high schools to go to the grade centers. Singer's residence will be at Blow School, while Granger was shifted to Roosevelt.

Probable Duties.

Singer earned his nick-name because he rendered first aid to the boys bruised on the football field, but after the football season he devoted his time to see that Granger, who coached basketball at Soldan last fall, assisted Jimmie Cook in football. It is probable that Granger, who started his high school coaching at Champlain, will help J. H. Castleman in track and Leo R. Carlson in football at Roosevelt. Their successors have not been named.

The casualties produced by ineligibility of one sort or another caused a large toll in the basketball ranks as a survey shows seven players lost this semester. The only school to escape demotion eligibility was McKinley.

The leading Soldan squad lost Charles McLeelan and Art Smith, regular forward and guard, respectively. McLeelan failed to make his grades, while Smith completed his eight semesters and, therefore, is no longer eligible. Coach Harry White announced that Ray Janaway will replace Smith and Ben Kleyman will take over McLeelan's job. The newcomers, along with Robert Green, six-foot-three center, were not available the first semester.

Beaumont Hit Hard.

To add to Coach Gus Polster's worry over the loss of Bill Panos, star forward and leading scorer, came the doctor's pronouncement that Art Keris, regular guard, would be out for at least five weeks because of the torn ligaments in Keris' right leg, which he received in the Maplewood game. Also Bob Gerst in the same contest, suffered a cut in his right eye, and since Gerst is a forward, it hampers his shooting a bit. Right now Polster doesn't know which five he will use Friday.

Cochard Vern Bradburn was forced to bid two of his Central regulars good-bye. They were Ralph Dorsey, center, and Richard Douglas, guard. Dorsey went over the semester limit and Douglas was graduated. Bradburn said that Warren Boecklen will jump center and either Harold Wright or Bernard Duncan will be at one of the guard posts.

Only Marshall Dennis had to be dropped from the team, and because of scholastic deficiencies, but Jack Carlson, whom Coach Don Frankenberg has been trying to use lately, reinjured his ankle and probably won't be ready for service any more this season. Dennis' place at guard will be taken care of by either Russ Tongay or Leonard Reiter.

Roosevelt's five was left intact, but Coach Walter Lorenzen had to dispense with the efforts of Marvin "Swede" Jovaag, substitute guard, who was given his sheepskin last week.

At a meeting of the football coaches yesterday afternoon at Roosevelt, the officials for the 1934 season were chosen. They are Poge Lewis; referee; Carl O. "Toddy" Kamp, umpire, and Walter "Baldy" Thuneman, linesman. All are from Washington U.

Sam Willaman Is "Out" as Coach At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—Sam Willaman, director of football at Ohio State University for the last five years, today tendered his resignation to Clarence Laylin, chairman of the Board of Athletic Control.

No announcement was made as to Willaman's future plans, although it is believed he has already signed a contract with Western Reserve University of Cleveland.

W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State, had no comment to make on Willaman's resignation.

"The Athletics Board has given this little thought," said St. John.

At Western Reserve.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 31.—Sam Willaman, who resigned as coach at Ohio State University, has been appointed as an associate professor of physical education at the Delbarton College of Western Reserve University and director of inter-collegiate football.

The announcement was made today by Prof. C. M. Finrock, chairman of Western Reserve's faculty committee on athletics.

The announcement came following a 12-hour period of rumors and guesses after Prof. Finrock had announced last night that Coach Keay would not be offered a new contract.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 31.

—By way of participating in the nation-wide birthday party for President Roosevelt, Oklahoma City's Warriors skated better than ever before and passed and shot expertly for a 4-0 victory over the St. Louis Flyers at the Ice Palace Tuesday night.

Conflicting festivities kept the attendance down to approximately 500 of the faithful, who saw the Warriors take temporary undisputed possession of second place in the American Association by the victory.

Score Twice Early.

Twice in the first period, the Warriors crashed through for goals, rested on their laurels in the second period and then came back with another two-goal offensive in the third period. A beautiful long pass from Artie Clark to Laury Scott produced the first goal of the melee in the opening five minutes of play.

"Battering Bulge" Bostrom took a distant shot at the goal a little later and youthful blond Eddie Hansen sped in for the rebound and cleverly maneuvered Goalie Murray out of position for a clear shot into the net.

Hansen also shared in the scoring of the third goal. He passed to Bobby Burns for the shot. Frankie Ingram and Scott collaborated on the fourth Oklahoma tally.

Despite their inability to score, the Flyers were not without their opportunities. Once in the third period, what looked like a sure goal by Shrimp McPherson took wings from right in front of the net and sailed over the goal line.

A dozen other times Verne Turner, veteran Warrior goalie, made football dives and tackles to knock down St. Louis shots. In all Turner made 33 stops to 27 for Murray of the Flyers.

Swenson Stars.

Individually, a big, blond Swedish boy on the Flyers by the name of Swenson was perhaps the game's most spectacular performer. He was all over the ice, shooting the Warriors and the puck like a wild thing but playing clean hockey nevertheless.

The game was by no means rough, only five minor penalties each were called. All but one were on the Warriors.

County Division Schools to Open Basket Tourney

Hancock and Riverview Gardens' high schools will open the second annual Ferguson invitational basketball tournament for county division schools this afternoon at Ferguson High School's gymnasium at 4 o'clock.

Other round games will be played this evening starting at 7 o'clock, and will be played in the following order: Jennings vs. Fairview; Brentwood vs. Bayless, and Eureka vs. Ferguson.

Brentwood is favored to retain the title which it won last year, because it has defeated the other teams in the tournament at least once this season, winning eight consecutive league games.

Brentwood's team is unusually tall and has scored easy victories over its opponents, with the exception of Jennings, which gave Brentwood a close game before losing, 23-19.

The semifinals of the tournament will be held Friday night, with the consolation and final games scheduled for Saturday.

EIGHT GAMES TONIGHT IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

A game between the Missouri Pacific and McQuay-Norris will be played at 9:30 o'clock tonight in Division 3 of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball League promises to be a rip-and-tuck affair with the Railroaders trying to wrest first place away from McQuay-Norris. Tonight's schedule of eight games will be played for second, clinching at 8:30 o'clock.

Other games scheduled are: Division 1, 7 p.m., M. & T. vs. Wohl Shoes, North Carolina; 8-10 p.m., Baked Shoes vs. Purina Mills, north court; Division 2, 7 p.m., U. S. Engineers vs. Wabash, center court; Division 4-8:30 p.m., St. Louis Cold Storage vs. Wings, center court; 9:30 p.m., Laclede Christy vs. Procter & Gamble, center court.

The announcement was made today by Prof. C. M. Finrock, chairman of Western Reserve's faculty committee on athletics.

BROWNS SIGN PITCHER BAECHT FOR WHOM CUBS PAID $75,000

Ed Baecht, right-handed pitcher, who carried a price tag of $75,000 when bought by the Chicago Cubs from the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club late in 1930, has signed a contract with the Browns, club officials announced yesterday.

During the 1930 season, Baecht compiled a brilliant record on the Coast, winning 27 games and losing 12. His sale to the Cubs for $75,000—and players—followed. He was used by the Cubs for the most part in relief roles.

Last season he was sent back to Los Angeles, and while the training season was still on was assigned to Minneapolis of the American Association. There he developed a sore arm, and was granted a leave of absence in order to try to affect a cure. Baecht failed to respond, was released by the team.

In St. Louis to discuss the possibilities of a job with the Browns, Baecht was examined by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club surgeon, who reported that the pitcher's arm was apparently in good condition. The Browns then offered him a contract and will retain him in his work in training camp warrants it.

Aged 27, Baecht is a native of Oklahoma, and first attracted attention while playing semi-pro baseball at Tulsa, Okla. He signed his first major league contract with the Phillies, and since that time he has been up and down several times. His home is at Grafton, Ill.

NORMANDY SCHEDULES 11 WRESTLING MEETS

Normandy High School's wrestling team has scheduled 11 wrestling meets for the coming month, and will probably participate in five or six more in preparation for the annual Normandy Invitational Wrestling meet for members of the St. Louis County League, March 8 and 9.

A strenuous schedule has been followed, but it will not be hard on the individual members, for Coach James Major will alternate his wrestlers to give the entire squad a chance in competition.

The schedule begins tomorrow with Normandy scheduled to journey to Wood River at 4 o'clock for the first meet.

KICK TO APPEAR IN BIRKIE'S CORNER AT STILLMAN FIGHT

The upward trend in pugilistic interest continued today when, on the heels of his previous announcement, the St. Louis Birkie's Stillman 10-round bout at the Coliseum next Wednesday night had been closed.

Raymond "Ducky" Pond was acknowledged unofficially to be the nominee as head coach, the post of back-coach was conceded to Earle "Greasy" Neale of West Virginia, and Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan was believed to be the new line coach. The identity of the new coach remained a mystery.

In a preliminary game, the Mapewood Sophomores defeated South Side Catholic, 30-15.

MAPLEWOOD HIGH BEATS M'BRIDE, ITS FIFTEENTH VICTORY IN ROW

Maplewood High School's unbeaten basketball team had its remarkable speed put to a severe test by McBride High, last night, but won its fifteenth consecutive victory, 17-15, in a fast and stormy game played at the Maplewood gymnasium before a crowd of more than 1,000 persons.

Maplewood even donated a basket to McBride and still had a two-point margin of victory. The donation came in the first three minutes of the game, when Harry Harris of Maplewood, attempted to bat the ball away from his basket while standing under it. He tipped the ball and it rose with a backward motion and went through the basket without touching the rim, counting two points for McBride.

The lead changed frequently during the game, the score being tied 5-5 at the end of the first quarter, and Maplewood holding a slim 9-8 advantage at the half.

Maplewood went ahead shortly before the end of the third period and held its slim lead until the end of the game.

The game was featured by the close guarding of both teams and the quickness with which the players handled the ball.

Russell Layer of Maplewood and Gil Franck of McBride guards were the outstanding players of the game. Layer and Franck are of heavy build but have a deceptive speed, enabling them to smother the forwards before they have a chance to shoot.

In a preliminary game, the Maplewood Sophomores defeated South Side Catholic, 30-15.

COLLYER'S SELECTIONS AT NEW ORLEANS

Jack Collyer, winner of the Downtown Y. M. C. A. handball tournament, is expected to compete as a St. Louis entry in the National A. A. tournament in New York, about March 15, according to a statement today.

Collyer has for several years been one of St. Louis' leading handball stars.

LONDONS AND SAVOLDI MEET AGAIN TONIGHT

Jack Londons, winner of the 1933 National A. A. tournament, is expected to compete as a St. Louis entry in the National A. A. tournament in New York, about March 15.

On the strength of his record, Londons and Savoldi are the two best handballers in the country.

STATE COMMISSION TO CONSIDER CITY'S DEMANDS HERE FRIDAY

The State Athletic Commission, which Chester L. Breuer of Columbia, Mo., is president, will meet here Friday afternoon to consider the proposals of the City Athletic Commission, which demands the right to tax amateur boxing and wrestling shows, the right to have a voice in setting of dates for shows and the right to stamp its approval on free tickets.

The proposals were submitted by Alderman Michael J. Scott yesterday to State Commissioner Seneca C. Taylor. Taylor requested that the City Commission put its demands and proposals in writing prior to Friday's meeting.

DICK BELL, ST. LOUIS, IN CRACK FIELD FOR MILLROSE A. A. SPRINT

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, national sprint champion, heads a list of 16 fleet dash men who will compete in the 60-yard invitation sprint of the Millrose A. A. games Saturday.

Metcalfe, Emmett Toppino of New Orleans, who gave the Marquette 400-yard dash title last year, and George Lewis, 100 yards, will be the main attractions.

Other sprinters in the Millrose games are: Eddie Tamm, 100 yards, and Dick Bell, St. Louis boy of Massachusetts Tech, L. C. 4-4.70-yard title-holder, are regarded as the "big four" of the sprint field.

BILLIKENS TO PLAY CARBONDALE NORMAL FIVE TOMORROW NIGHT

Taking the place of the cancelled game with James Millikin, the St. Louis University Billikens will go to Carbondale tomorrow night and there engage the Southern Illinois Teachers. The Teachers are rated strong contenders in the Little 10.

The Billikens will be seeking their eighth victory in 10 games this season.

DEMOCRAT SAYS MILLS IS TALKING FOR PRESIDENCY

Robinson Asserts Topeka Address Indicates Candidacy for Republican Nomination.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said in a formal statement yesterday that the Topeka address of Ogden Mills, Hoover's Secretary of the Treasury, was "notable in that it indicates his candidacy for the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket and the platform on which he expects to run."

Representative Byrnes of Tennessee, Democratic leader in the House, said:

"It is rather pleasing that Mr. Mills now concurs with the policy of the Democratic party as far as developing foreign markets for our surplus products."

"While Mr. Mills was a member of the House, and a leader in the last Roosevelt administration as Cabinet member, he took the contrary view. The policy of the Republican party was to raise tariffs so high that our foreign markets were destroyed to a large extent. I understand Mr. Mills thinks the NRA is a good thing."

Statement of Robinson.

In his statement Robinson said: "Mr. Mills bewails what he calls the death of liberty under the Roosevelt administration, denounces the President's monetary policy and to the astonishment of the little world provides the tariff policy of the Hoover administration, of which he was the chief adviser, and advocates tariff reform."

"With respect to liberty, all social progress, one might add all political control, implies a measure of sacrifice on the part of the public for the common good. So long as happiness and comfort among the people are promoted, there can be little likelihood of the destruction of liberty in the sense which Americans have been taught to accept it."

"There are indeed many who believe that anti-hoarding statutes violate the rights of the citizen guaranteed by the Constitution. Nevertheless, public opinion strongly supports the efforts to compel the miser to open his chest, and bring his hoardings into use."

"For More Liberty Now."

"My reply to the assertion by Mr.

Mills that liberty has been slain during the present administration is that in so far as the masses of our population are concerned there is far more liberty now than was enjoyed by our citizens generally during the time when he stood close to the seat of power and whispered to the head of the Government the devious course to be taken to strengthen and to build up privilege and monopoly at the sacrifice of the common citizen's liberty and welfare.

The new monetary policy containing the reduction of the gold dollar content and the stabilization of exchange has been the subject of discussion in this chamber throughout last week—a discussion which culminated in the passage of the monetary bill by a vote of three to one.

"Mr. Mills was the head of the Treasury and the chief financial adviser of President Hoover, whose administration will go down in history as a miserable failure, primarily because those relied on the wisdom or the courage to suggest or do anything to stay or check the forces of business depression, financial bankruptcy and ruin!"

"Admittedly no single measure can be expected to prove itself a cure-all in such a time as this. While Mr. Mills and his associates, who were running the Government, permitted a complete loss of confidence to occur and were entirely helpless to bring about recovery, the Roosevelt administration has accomplished such a reversal as in the general opinion means the gradual return of prosperity.

Tariff Policy Repudiation.

"While condemning the measure through which business revival was being brought about, Mr. Mills makes only one constructive proposal, a proposal which implies a repudiation of the principles for which he has stood throughout a long political career.

"His comedy is modification of tariff policy, so as to provide a mutual exchange of commodities manifestly necessary to the continued and healthful growth of our export trade. He quotes the reciprocal tariff policy of President McKinley, abandoned by him and his associates, for the policy of prohibitive tariffs which during recent years has provoked retaliatory measures and closed many foreign countries against the commerce of the United States.

"In proposing a modification of tariff policy in order to promote

MISS PERKINS URGES SHORTER WORK DAY

Tells Miners That Is Only Remedy for Unemployment.

By the Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—Shorter working hours were said yesterday by Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, to be the only means of permanently countering unemployment. Addressing the United Mine Workers of America, the Roosevelt Cabinet member also urged wages adequate to guarantee the worker's security and provision for more leisure.

Conditions, she said, appear to be improving as a result of NRA codes and other recovery measures.

"Every man and woman in this country who is willing and able to work needs to be permanently and securely employed," Miss Perkins asserted. "I am convinced that we cannot do this, that we cannot maintain permanent and secure employment, except by a short work day and a short work week."

"We have come to the point where we can afford to do this, for the sake of the invention of machines found a way to do those things which we need for our comfort and for our civilization without so much human labor."

"Machines used in the mines and factories of the United States should be made the servants of wage earners and pay them a share in the profits they earn in the form of increased pay and shorter hours."

"This depression has taught us many things, among which are the essentials of a new conception of civilization. These are security, adequate income, and leisure. With a decrease in the number of coal miners employed and a drop in pay rolls many of your members have suffered a haunting fear of disaster and poverty in the last few years."

Court Reporter Dead

PERRY S. RADER.

FUNERAL TOMORROW FOR PERRY S. RADER

Services for Veteran Supreme Court Reporter at Jefferson City.

Funeral services for Perry S. Rader, reporter for the Missouri Supreme Court for more than 35 years, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Margaret Nelson Stevens Methodist chapel, in Jefferson City. Burial will be in a cemetery there.

Mr. Rader, an attorney, was 74 years old, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milton R. Stahl, 4944 Lindell boulevard, following two paralytic strokes. He suffered the first stroke in September, 1932, and had been bed-ridden since then. Also surviving is a son, John W. Rader of Kansas City.

Appointed reporter to the Missouri Court in 1890, Mr. Rader covered all that post until his illness forced his retirement. He reported and edited all the decisions of the court, which, in his time, amounted to more than half the total number ever delivered in Missouri. He prepared the syllabi for more than 12,000 court opinions.

In the same year that he was appointed court reporter, the Missouri Textbook Commission asked him to revise his History of Missouri, which had been privately printed in 1891, and add a section on civil government. The book was revised by "Rader's History of Missouri and Civil Government," and has since been used as textbook in Missouri schools. More than 400,000 copies have been sold.

Mr. Rader was also a contributor to the Missouri Historical Review.

Because of his position he was intimately acquainted with many State officials. A Democrat, he was twice a candidate for nomination to the Supreme Court but was defeated both times.

The son of a circuit riding Southern Methodist minister, he was graduated from Central College, Fayette, Mo., in 1886. He read law in the office of Pauline, his wife, who, when he was a boy, also owned and edited the Branson Standard, and was admitted to the bar in 1888 at Brunswick. He practiced there until the following year when he moved to Fayette, where he lived until his appointment as court reporter.

For more than 30 years he was a curator of Central College and for many years was a member of the Board of Missions and Board of Finance of the Southern Methodist Church.

SALE HELD IN UNION-MAY-STERN DOWNTOWN STORE ONLY

UNION-MAY-STERN

STORE OPENS AT 10 A.M. TOMORROW
We are delaying the opening time of our downtown store so every housewife can be on hand when the doors open. So let nothing interfere with your attendance at the greatest furniture event ever staged in St. Louis.
Store closes at 9 P.M.

We Can't Eat 'em!

So Tomorrow--Thursday--We Are Going to Practically Give Them Away!

When our stores close tonight all hands will get busy on inventory. Inventory is a bitter pill for store owners. It makes a lot of us blush at times when stocks show up too high. Usually "odds and ends" remaining from fast selling lines tie up a lot of room and a lot of money.

So here is what we did.. We marked every odd piece of furniture "out of stock"--left them out of inventory and priced them so ridiculously low there won't be one left when we close our doors Thursday night.

We've fine-combed every store and warehouse and gathered together in our downtown store the greatest selection of suites and individual pieces (mostly one and two of a kind) that we have ever offered at such unbelievably low prices.

You have only to look at the items listed below—compare the regular price with our cleaning-out price—and then you'll have the most eloquent story possible of this amazing opportunity. Every man in our organization is staying down late tonight to make sure every bargain is in its proper place and correctly marked for this great bargain jamboree.

Remember! Quantities are limited to the number specified below and there are no duplicates. Of course, there are many equally attractive bargains which we could not crowd into this ad.

You owe it to yourself to profit by this rare chance to save tremendously. And, of course, you can take advantage of Union-May-Stern's extremely liberal credit terms and trade-in policy. There isn't any excuse you can think of to stay away tomorrow!

Charles Fourier said that what we call evil is always a perversion of something that is good. The policeman who arrested Amy Mollison encountered a temporary version of the energy that makes her one of the world's most wonderful flyers. If he had caught a lady eagle, it would have scratched him also, if possible.

It is announced that four recent discoveries in cancer research have meant more in fighting the disease than all other discoveries from the beginning of time. Most interesting is the fact that a rat, free of cancer when a cancer is planted in its body, immediately develops an "anti-body" that attacks the cancer and often destroys it.

This home-made cure for cancer, within the rat's body, can be attached to a cancer implanted and removed and used to combat cancer in other rats.

No experiments have been made with human beings as yet. Once the rat is firmly established in the rat's body, however, the creature's system seems to give up the struggle, and no further "anti-body" cure is developed.

Scientists warn you that the main cause of cancer is irritation of the tissues. It may come from irritation of the lips, or tongue, irritation of the stomach's mucous membranes, due to taking liquids too hot, irritation of any kind. Violent irritation will cause cancer in a short time. Slight irritation, long continued, will produce cancer in the long run. Hence the frequency of cancer in old age. Men and women living longer develop cancer more frequently, as irritation has time to do its work.

Nobody knows how much serious "inoperable" cancer has been caused in women by the use of tight corsets in days gone by. Don't squeeze any part of your body, or it otherwise irritate it.

Hitler's First Year.
Evil Is Good, Gone Wrong.
Rats and Cancer.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1934.)
GERMANY has just celebrated the first anniversary of Hitler's rise to power. His appearance and that of other dictators are among the results of war, turning back the clock of progress. The natural course was from tyranny to monarchy, from monarchy to a republic. War turns back to the days of tyrants.

All these newly made absolute rulers, Mussolini, Kemal Pasha, Stalin, Hitler, have been remarkably stable, and have had overwhelming support from the people ruled by them. The final story is to be written later.

Hitler's administration claims as one year's "accomplishments" reduction of unemployed from 6,000,000 to 4,000,000, destruction of all political parties, and the Nazi withdrawal from all connection with the League of Nations, abolition of labor unions, legislation for sterilization of the unfit, and licensing of journalists, and, finally, "elimination of Jews from many branches of private life, and from all public offices."

That last "accomplishment" Germany will regret later. Before the big war began, the Kaiser had eliminated Jews from all diplomatic posts, and his good "Nordic" diplomats, gave him information and prophecy about 100 per cent wrong. Any one of a hundred intelligent German Jews could have told him that Italy would not stick to the alliance with him and Austria, that England would not see Belgium invaded and France conquered without entering the fight, and that the decaying Hapsburgs would not be worth their salt in a real war.

Where you find achievement and success you find energy, and energy sometimes involves surprises. A young Englishwoman, Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, you remember, flew from London over oceans, forests, jungles, beat all records, both of men and women, up to that time and married the man she considered England's next best flyer.

Arrested for speeding near Fort Lauderdale on Monday, she got away from the policeman four different times, much to his disgust, and he reports that she scratched his face, hit him and bit him, and told him "she liked a fight." The Judge fined her $50, which seemed reasonable.

Charles Fourier said that what we call evil is always a perversion of something that is good. The policeman arrested after Mrs. Amy Mollison encountered a temporary perversion of the energy that makes her one of the world's most wonderful flyers. If he had caught a lady eagle, it would have scratched him also, if possible.

It is announced that four recent discoveries in cancer research have meant more in fighting the disease than all other discoveries from the beginning of time. Most interesting is the fact that a rat, free from cancer when a cancer is planted in its body, immediately develops an "anti-body" that attacks the cancer and often destroys it.

Men and women living longer develop cancer more frequently, as irritation has time to do its work.

Nobody knows how much serious "non-curable" cancer has been caused in women by the curse of tight corsets in days gone by. Don't squeeze any part of your body, or scald it, or otherwise irritate it.

STAMP NEWS

Panama's Commemoratives

COMMEMORATIVE issue of postage stamps will be printed as part of the elaborate program which has been arranged to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the National Institute of Panama, a college with more than 700 pupils. These stamps will be on sale for only 30 days. Then the commemorative will be destroyed.

Peru's Latest.

Without any previous announcement a new 10c value has been issued by the country, and for some unknown reason they have put our own Statue of Liberty on the stamp. At first it was supposed that the design on the stamp was taken from a statue which the natives of France gave to Peru in 1921 on the one hundred anniversary of the independence of Peru. Later it was found out that the Peru statue is quite different. Much comment by the natives of Peru is causing the Government to seriously consider withdrawing the stamp for sale. The border of the stamp is the same as the Sache Cerro 10c of last year and the color is rose red.

Items of Interest.

Because of exceptional demands by stamp collectors for the 3 cent Lincoln stamp for use in connection with Lincoln's birthday on Feb. 12, the Postoffice Department has ordered a large quantity printed as the supply of this stamp has been exhausted.

The United Stamp Societies, a federation of stamp clubs, extending from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi River, will hold their annual convention and exhibition in May.

The agent who acted for Arthur Hind at the Ferrieres in Paris, a long time ago, was authorized to spend as much as $65,000 for the 1-cent British Guiana stamp. This stamp finally cost Arthur Hind but $38,000 dollars. Incidentally the total purchases of Mr. Hind at these sales was slightly in excess of $300,000.

Because of the success of the first stamp bourse held in New York, it was decided that more room was needed for the second and it will be held on Feb. 9 at the Hotel Taft.

New Issues.

COLOMBIAN REPUBLIC.—In addition to the two stamps listed last week which were issued for the 400th anniversary of Cartagena, a new 5c dark brown, portrait of P. de Heredia has been issued. The workmanship is very poor and the stamp roughly lithographed.

DENMARK.—The postage rates on foreign postal cards was increased from 15 ore to 20 ore a very short time ago. This change caused the Government to attach current 5 ore stamps to the current 5 ore postal cards. Later extra stamps were printed directly on the cards. At the same time the color was changed as follows: Envelope, 10 ore orange on white; letter cards 10 ore orange on blue gray, postal cards 7 ore violet on white, 10 ore orange on white, and 15 ore green plus 5 ore green on white. The postal cards are no longer on watermark paper.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.—A single value of 100 pesos of the recent provisional airmail stamp has been found with a double overprint. It is a 20 cent stamp, sort of the 1931 regular postage series, overprinted "CORREO AEREO INTERNACIONAL" in black.

GERMANY.—Two new postal cards have just been issued here. One portrays Richard Wagner, the famous musician, and is printed in green on cream. The value is 6pf with an added tax of 4pf to be used for the poor. To the left of the portrait is a picture of the Berlin Theater with the inscription "Honor the German Masters." The same post card is a 6pf black, portraying Hindenburg and Martin Luther. This last card has no surcharge.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The barred envelopes which are used for registered foreign mail have been slightly changed. The inscription, "This side for the address," has been omitted and the inscription on the back has been changed from "Foreign and colonial" to "Imperial and foreign." There will be quite a bit of delay in the new series of stamps for this country. Scheduled to be issued in January, they have now been delayed to July 1, 1934.

HAIKI.—Another value has been added to the new airmail series. It is 1g deep ultramarine and the design is the same as the 50c.

JAPAN.—Two values of the 1923 stamps have been issued as coil stamps. They are 1½ sen blue and 3 sen carmine.

MEXICO.—Another value of the 1923-25 regular series of this country has been overprinted with the inscription "SERVICIO OFICIAL" in two lines horizontally in black. It is a 5c red orange and for official use only.

PORUGAL.—The stamp for the Geographical Society for 1934 has had a color change. Scotts Type F4, blue and carmine.

PORUGUESE INDIA.—Two values in a new type for the Portuguese colonies, watermarked with a cross and perforated 11½ and 12½, have been released for use

INTERIOR of GABLE'S HOME

Comfort Is Keynote of Movie Star's New Residence

—By JOSEPHINE WALTER—

JUST what sort of a home would you associate with that virile, robust man? Clark Gable? Tiger skins and hunting trophies or the last word in luxury? Well, your guess would be wrong on either count, for this very popular leading man has one of the simplest and most liveable homes in Hollywood.

The exterior of the house is of Monterey design, a style which is deservedly popular in California, and which, I believe, would prove equally attractive in St. Louis. Clark Gable's is of white-washed brick, long and rambling, with a balcony across the upper floor and bright green shutters on all the windows. A house, in fact, to delight an old sea captain or an up-to-date movie star.

Inside, the house is simple George Washington, and the furnishings and decorative effects further emphasize this simplicity. Although many of the pieces are very fine antiques, the decorating has been handled in such a way as to minimize the importance of the individual objects and to stress the comfort and livability of the whole.

In the living room, white walls and light beige carpeting provide an excellent background for the rich colors of the fabrics used. Curtains and draperies in lime green have a ground color of a deep greenish-blue, with the design and the thick wool fringe in tones of deep rose red and beige. These colors are repeated in the two comfortable arm chairs before the simple fireplace, covered in blue damask, and in the big couch opposite which is done in rose red velvet. This same red is further accentuated in the background of the handsome por-

phy. They are 1R bistro and 5 Tan-gale red.

SALVADORE.—This country has just bought a new printing press from Germany, identical with the presses which are turning out Italian stamps.

STRATOS SETTLEMENTS.—The new stamps for Perak will show the head of the Sultan against three different types of background. The stamp of Pahang will also portray their Sultan in two different frames. Sarawak will use three designs, one of Sultan and two of two different mosques. Negeri Sembilan will also use two designs showing the arms of the State.

VENEZUELA.—Three provisions have been issued to serve the double purpose of using up old supplies and bringing out new values. The surcharge of the new value is in large type and the date "1933" in a curved line above is in black on all values. Bars obliterate the old values. These bars are in the same color as the original color of the stamp. The new stamps are Scotts No. 271, 7½c on 10c, dark green; Scotts No. 292, 22½c on 25c, red, and Scotts No. 292, 37½c on 25c, dark blue.

Frozen Rice Pudding.

Soak one package of gelatin in one-half cup cold water for five minutes. Then add to one cup boiling hot rice and stir until dissolved. Add sugar to taste, one-half cup ground blanched almonds, one teaspoon vanilla, pinch of salt. When cool add one pint whipped cream. Turn into refrigerator pan of the electric icebox and freeze for four hours.

Fish Dishes

Horseshoe sauce improves whatever your fish dish may be. And if you find it difficult to get the skin off your hands, a little d. y. mustard will do the trick. Washing soda in the water helps in cleaning the pan and the utensils you have used in cooking the fish—but do not use soda if your pan is aluminum.

TODAY'S PATTERN

A Cape for Spring

HERE'S a bit of dash for your spring wardrobe—a captivating cape model fashioned of gay prints. The shoulder cape forms the yoke and sleeves, and ties in a belt about the waist. There are clever angles to the bodice. Length-giving skirt panels make the hips appear very slender. You'll find many new monotypes, that would also be splendid for this model—combine two of your most becoming shades—or all in one color, this model would be equally smart. Pick your fabrics from the silks, new crepes, and novelty cottons in vogue.

Pattern 1769 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 2½ yards 39-inch fabric and ¾ yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coin or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. SURE TO STATE TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

THE NEW SPRING 1934 EDITION OF THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK IS NOW READY. All the best spring styles for adults and children in an interesting, helpful book. Send for your copy and be chic this spring. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Salmon Mousse

Three tablespoons granulated gelatin. Two-thirds cup cold water. One cup mayonnaise. One-half cup chopped cream. Three cups salmon. One cup diced celery. Four tablespoons chopped green peppers. Four tablespoons chopped sweet pickles. One-fourth teaspoon paprika. One tablespoon chopped parsley. One tablespoon lemon juice. Soak gelatin and water five minutes. Dissolve over hot water and cool under cold mold or shallow dish rinsed out of cold water. Set in cold place to stiffen. Unmold on lettuce. If sheet mold is used, heart shapes can be traced from paper cutter or cut out with heart cutter. Serves 12.

Valentine Dessert

Twelve cake hearts. Quart strawberry ice cream. One pint whipped cream. One cup powdered sugar. One cup green candy gum drops. Cakes can be baked in individual molds or heart shapes cut from baked sheet of cake. Arrange cake on doilies top with portions of ice cream. Mix whipped cream, sugar and vanilla. Spread on top ice cream and sprinkle with chopped candy gum drops. Serve at once.

Toasted Chicken Sandwiches

Twelve slices hot toast, buttered. Six slices chicken. One-half cup mayonnaise. Six strips bacon, cooked. Six slices tomatoes. Arrange toast in pairs, add portions of remaining ingredients. Arrange sandwich fashion, serve immediately.

Another Example of Very Advanced Three-Bidding

IF THE ultimate refinement, the most delicate possible treatment of a very difficult slam angle following a three-bid does not interest you, do not bother with today's article; regard it as merely proving an academic point, as dealing with a contingency which is unlikely to occur in any one individual's experience. Compare it, if you like, to the gilding of a lily. Nevertheless, it does illustrate a H. HAL SIMS point of method; it does illuminate the deductive principle which underlies the entire structure of the three-bid and its probe, and I hope you will work through the reasoning which was.

What Actually Happened.

When we were discussing and testing out every angle we could think of in connection with the king-showing angle, it occurred to me that we had not discussed the case where all one's losers were in the same suit. Suppose that the partner has no ace to take care of that loser which cannot be eliminated by the king, and queen of that suit, then there is a way of finding out about that third loser?

I decided to put a cold test without warning up to Derrick Werner, who has specialized in the three-bid and all its ramifications. In

If you start out to purchase one blouse for your new spring suit, you'll probably reach home with a dozen because all of the styles are so intriguing. Plaid blouses are very clannish in their patterns, even though they are made of gingham. A stand-up collar cut on the bias ties at the back of the neck. Short sleeves that owe their fullness to a series of pleats on top of the shoulders and plain colored gingham belts are other distinctive features.

I think conditions I work under are bad enough without having trouble at home—and I do have both. I have been going to night school trying to make up. I went to church and quit, due to trouble at home. I was president of the basketball club and usher.

My mother's grouch on me has been growing for two years—especially since I met the girl. Her objection is late hours (about 1 o'clock, twice a week). She keeps nagging me to change jobs, also. My mother has gained 30 pounds in the last two years, while I have lost 20.

I am so shaky I can't write. And once I cut my chin, while shaving, and she nagged so I tossed a can of powder at her missing her, of course, but she said I struck her. I think I should judge for myself about what I do. She has told me to leave and I told her I would if it would make her happy, but I have no relatives who would bother with me, because they are struggling for a living.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

by MARIE

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM the stepchild of a wonderful stepfather. I have a three step-sisters and two stepbrothers. I am the only one by mother's first marriage. I am 25 years old and have a small job. I am in love with a girl and would marry her if I had a better position. We, the girl and myself, never go to expensive places up my board at home.

I think conditions I work under are bad enough without having trouble at home—and I do have both. I have been going to night school trying to make up. I went to church and quit, due to trouble at home. I was president of the basketball club and usher.

THE DOG

You have made some efforts, undoubtedly and have ideals which, I am afraid, you are allowing resentment to starve out. It is likely your mother pampered you a good deal when you were little and now is trying to undo her work. You would not be blamed, at 25, for seeking another environment, but your feeling, repeated many times in this letter, shows you are brooding over her criticism. And a man, at 25, who gives way to his resentments at his mother like a spoiled child, is hardly be forgiven for such a trick—no matter what the price.

It is the constant brooding which makes you shabby and losing weight. Put more time, strength and thought on your work and kick the self-pity out of your system.

It would be a good thing for you to try living somewhere else for a while, probably you could find a place for the same you pay at home. But leave as an experiment, and not with a grouch; hoping to punish them all.

Dear Martha Carr:

WE are a bridge club of 12 girls, planning perhaps to join a sorority, and have some plans made. Could you tell us of one, and where we could have these made? TWELVE GIRLS.

The Dean of Women, Washington University, undoubtedly gave you information on both points.

My dear Mrs. Carr:

I WANT to ask of you the favor of publishing my letter as soon as possible. I am a woman with an E. B. and getting treatment at a clinic. I am not able to live in my room, which is a light housekeeping room where it is hard to regain my health. My husband has been unemployed for two years and, since this depression, we have lost all our furniture. If I had a few pieces I could have another room for a bedroom. A friend of mine will call and get it, if anyone answers the door.

DISTRESSED.

My dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM trying to get some music for piano. I need both sheet music and instruction books. It makes a difference how old the music is, just so I can read it. I am enclosing a self-addressed envelope and I hope that you can help me.

GLADYS.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

THIS is late to write about Christmastime, but would you please put the following letter in your column:

Dear Santa Claus:

Thank you very much for the little cars and the "Build-Em" toys. I like them so much.

HAROLD HANSEN,

Four and one-half year old.

Our little boy received the above toys anonymously after he had sent a letter to Santa Claus without stamp or definite address. We hope the kind giver will read it, as it is the best way I can think of to thank them. It seems like everybody reads your column, Mrs. Carr.

Sincerely yours,

INGABORG H.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WILL you please print the address of the Free Legal Aid Bureau of St. Louis?—E. W.

Dotted swiss is a fabric which promises to be a leader among the cotton blouses. An interesting blouse of this fabric is of navy with white dots. The front has a bosom effect edged with pleated ruffles and a tailored collar with its own tie. Short sleeves end with the ruffles. All white swiss and white with blue dots illustrate the variety.

Crystal buttons that are as large as quarters decorate the tailored front of a white handkerchief linen blouse. The collar which buttons quite high at the throat is composed of a series of pleats. Sleeves are long and straight. A fitted waistline assures neatness whether this blouse is worn with the tail tucked inside the skirt or as an overblouse.

White coin dots on a brown silk crepe ground inject a dashing theme to another new suit blouse. This has a tailored-like look which the lower part is attached with big box pleats at either side of the front and a wide shirtpoint type of collar. Long sleeves with tailored cuffs, and large flat white buttons contribute their part toward a good-looking garment. Other color schemes such as green, black, navy or red with white are included in the collection.

The stripes that loom up so brightly on Rosenthaler crepe blouse get their inspiration from Mexico. Red, yellow, blue, gray and black stand down side by side. A yard across the back gives them a different slant since the material is arranged crosswise. The front introduces a vest effect which is a certain sign of success for any blouse this season.

When twin sweaters have that look of being made by hand they soon become popular. Some attractive twins that recently arrived in town are fashioned with this pretense. The cardigan, instead of fastening close at the neck, moves its buttons down to the waistline. Slip-on that peep out from underneath are of lace weave. Pastel shades predominate.

Patent leather handbags are increasing in numbers, and getting brighter every day. Those of red were created to appeal to the navy suit wearers. Others are of black, navy or brown. The rolled top feature which was introduced last year proved so popular that it is making its appearance again. Zipper inside pockets may be a protection against money getting away so fast.

A tan calfskin bag grained so that it resembles pugskin has coin dots of brown patent leather and sheepskin for its lid for lining. It promises to ensemble equally well with a brown or a beige spring costume. In type it is an envelope and in size it is sufficiently large to serve as a shopping bag.

COLDS Go Overnight

When You Take The Right Thing!

A cold doesn't have to run its course and expose you to serious complications. A cold can be routed overnight if you go about it the right way. First of all, a cold being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. Secondly, a cold calls for a COLD remedy and not for a "cure-all."

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the tour de force. It opens the bowels and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is taking chances with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any druggist, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and beware of dealers who offer substitutes.

IF YOU MY OPINION ASK by MARTHA CARR

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I AM the stepchild of a wonderful stepfather. I have a three step-sisters and two stepbrothers. I am the only one by mother's first marriage. I am 25 years old and have a small job. I am in love with a girl and would marry her if I had a better position. We, the girl and myself, never go to expensive places; this is in order that I may keep up my board at home.

I think conditions I work under are bad enough, without having trouble at home—and I do have both. I have been going to night school trying to catch up. I went to church and quit due to trouble at home.

My mother's grouch on me has been growing for two years—especially since I met the girl. Her objection is late hours (about 1 o'clock, twice a week). She keeps nagging me to change jobs, also. My mother has gained 30 pounds in the last two years, while I have lost 24.

I am so shaky I can't write. And once I cut my chin, while shaving, and she nagged so I tossed a can of water over her at missing her, of course, but she said I struck her. I think I am a judge for myself about what I do. She has told me to leave, and I told her I would if it would make her happy, but I have no relatives who would bother me, because they are struggling for a living.

Should I continue at home, pay board with one big happy family or go?

You have made some efforts, undoubtedly, and have ideals which, I am afraid, you are allowing resentment to starve out. It is likely your mother pampered you a good deal when you were little and now is trying to do her work. You would not be blamed, at 25, for seeking another wife, but out your feeling, repeated many times in this letter, shows you are brooding over her criticism. And a man, at 25, who gives way to his resentment to the point of throwing things at his mother like a spoiled child, is hardly to be forgiven for such a trick—no matter what the provocation. It is the constant brooding which makes you shaky and losing weight. Put more time, strength and thought on your work and kick the self-pity out of your system.

It would be a good thing for you to try living somewhere else for a while, where you could find a place for the same you pay at home. But leave as an experiment, and not with a grouch, hoping to punish them all.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WE are a bridge club of 12 girls, planning perhaps to join a sorority, and have some pins made. Could you tell us of one, and where we could have these pins made? TWELVE MOTHER.

The Dean of Women, Washington University, undoubtedly can give you information on both points.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I WANT to ask you the favor of publishing my letter as soon as possible. I am a woman with "T. B." and getting treatment at a clinic since last July. I am living in one light housekeeping room where it is hard to regain my health. My husband has been unemployed for two years and, since this depression, we have lost all our furniture. If I had a few pieces I could have another room for a bedroom. A friend of mine will call and get it, if anyone answers this.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE by WYNN

For Thursday, Feb. 1.

A BUSY and possibly confusing day. Watch the strong box; attend to straight transactions, both paying and receiving—but mix on funny business. Evening looks sociable; be sympathetic, but don't trust your emotions minus thought.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

THIS is late to write about Christmas, I am afraid, but would you please put the following letter in your column?

Dear Santa Claus:

Thank you very much for the little cars and the "Build-Em" toys.

I like them so much.

HAROLD HANSEN,

Four-and-a-half years old.

Our little boy received the above toy anonymously after he had sent a letter to Santa Claus without stamp or definite address. We hope the kind giver will read it, as it is the best way I can think of to thank them. It seems like everybody reads your column, Mrs. Carr.

Sincerely yours,

INGABORG H.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WILL you please print the address of the Free Legal Aid Bureau of St. Louis?—E. W.

The Legal Aid Bureau is located in the Municipal Courts Building.

Dear Martha Carr:

PLEASE tell me what clothes should be taken to the New Orleans Mardi Gras. Is it necessary to have a masquerade costume? MISS DOUBTFUL.

You can perhaps get some idea of the weight of wardrobe to take when I tell you that the difference is good for those who are worthy; if not worthy, get that way.

The Lone WOLF'S Son
—By—
LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX.
“H E may have done just what he said he would, at that—may be the lad got off light because Miss Crozier’s pa was on hand to meet her when the plane lit, and she got him to say a good word for Maurice.”

“But how can we be sure M. Crozier?”

“Stands to reason he’d be there to greet his daughter and finance Mamma’s emeralds through the customs.”

Lanyard opened a frank stare, and the detective quaked with deep enjoyment.

“The idea bein’ that I wasn’t supposed to be wise to that angle?” The bronze mask bent crinkling over the flame that Crane was setting to his pipe. “I guess, at that, maybe I’ve got no business to; but it’s like I told you—hard to stop an old mule from brawlin’ on any loose feed he comes across.”

“The more I see of you, my friend, the less wonder I feel when it appears that you know everything.”

“Not everything,” Crane with judicial gravity confessed. “Take this crumb, Isquith. All I know about him is he’s phony. And one thing you don’t know yet is that the old girl yankee that green ice out of the purser’s box just before the plane sailed and gave it to Miss Fenn to take and dare—thereby slipping one out on the mob’s that’s tallin’ the junk.”

“And one is happy to infer, from the tenor of this telegram, that the race was successful.”

The detective shook his head gravely. “The returns ain’t all in yet. All we know so far is that she stole several lengths lead while the rest of the jocks were nappin’; but that doesn’t mean the race is won yet; there’s a dark horse in it, or I ain’t track-wise.”

“Maybe? Or maybe it’s the Main Squeeze that gives Freddie his orders—Fay-eye.” Crane elucidated, reading Lanyard’s blank look. “Leonard Schwartzstein—they’ve got other names for him in New York, but Fish-eye’s the poltest.”

“I remember reading about him in newspaper correspondence from America,” Lanyard said with the slowness of a man whose mind is troubled. “You have reason to believe he may be concerned in this affair?”

“He isn’t, you can bet me your life he will be, soon as he finds out about it. If this mob wins, and Mrs. Crozier loses and Fish-eye ain’t in the cut, he’s liable to act up mean and ask all concerned some pretty pointed questions. But there are so many on Board that are close to him, it’s the last thing likely that Fish-eye hasn’t had a fin in the business from the start-off. Not that it was my idea, when I drifted in here, to tell you anything to upset you.”

L ANYARD had a clouded smile. “Frankly, you do give me something to think about.”

“It doesn’t do any harm at that, to realize what you’re up against.”

“But what I am up against is comparatively a simple affair; ‘he worst that can happen’ to me is to be haled back to France, the hapless victim of a dolt and a viper, Capt. Paschal, and Plon.”

“But if you don’t try yourself out of this jam.”

“I shall, naturally, invoke every power at the disposal of a French citizen.”

“I’ll back you to be strolling’ up Fifth avenue, foot-loose, before some folks we know find their land-legs.”

“You have more faith in me than I have, then, my friend. But my plight, as I say, is elementary, no matter how annoying: we know what I am up against. It is not for myself that I must worry, but for that unhappy boy, my son, alone in a strange land and at the mercy of as formidable an organization of criminals!”

“That brings us to one question I wanted to ask you: what can I do to make your mind easy?”

“Look Maurice up, keep an eye on him, counsel and guide him”—

“Trust me.”

“How very kind you are!”

“Who, me? Kind!” Crane grunted. “The kid’s interested. Every time I run into you I feel like a movie fan—just can’t wait to see what’s goin’ to happen next. Next question is: what else can I do for you?”

“You are so generous, ready, my friend, you almost make me sorry there is nothing I can ask of you more than you have already promised. Maurice will probably be at the dock to meet me; if by any chance he is not, you will surely find him at the office of the Walpole, where we arranged to rendezvous. Tell him for me, please, I shall get in immediate touch tomorrow morning with the American branch of Dellebs, secure the attendance of its legal adviser, and call on the French Consul to help bring this imbecile of a captain to his senses. If Maurice can be of any assistance, that I shall not fail to call on him. In the meantime, he is not to fret on me, and I’ll be back.”

Crane, who had crept to look through the window port, turned back. “We’ll be in dock inside two minutes,” he said. “What else is on your mind, old-timer?”

“I AM anxious lest Maurice, left to himself, fall in with Mme. Boyce again. She’s a dangerous creature, and he vain with the vanity of his age, susceptible to

“Bon soi, monsieur,” he mouthed. “If you will forgive the impertinence of this, as the audience permits to say it is with deep gratification that I am in your natural state at last—Monsieur le Loup Solitaire to the life!”

“But ‘gratification,’ monsieur,” Lanyard bitterly replied without rising—“if one is at all acquainted with your spirit, is a poor name for your emotion.”

I doubt if there is any man alive ill qualified to claim acquaintance with my spirit. Not that I blame you, monsieur, for that,” Plot hastened to add. “If any man was ever more miked in appearance, I never knew him. Be good enough to believe, monsieur, that you hold me in a friend.”

Lanyard, having looked the creature up and down, slightly lifted one shoulder and one corner of his mouth.

“Well ask me to believe it is held in you an honest man.”

“Ah, no, monsieur,” the agent of the Surete protested. “That, I grant you, would be too much. After all, I pretend to be no better than a human being, though my weaknesses. Consider that, too. I who stand before you, am a thief.”

“Indeed? And is one expected, in response to that, to say: ‘And in what way, monsieur, a thief?’”

“But it is not a jest that one makes with you; it is a confession. It is even more—it is a boast.”

Doing one thing now makes dull hair gleam with lustre

If you would like to see your dull, faded hair take on a lustre and beauty it has not had in years—just do this one simple thing: Comb your hair with Geral the original make-up for the hair. Geral is not a dye, bleach or henna. It contains no oil. Geral beautifies the hair as rouge, powder and lipstick beautify the face. No matter what the color of your hair—blond, brown, brown, blonde or gray—no matter how lifeless and drab, Geral will impart NOT an artificial look, but the natural life, sheen and glow of youthful girlhood. Obtain Geral at all good toilet counters and drug stores.

Some New Recipes

—By GLADYS T. LANG

The menu:
Peasant soup
Calves tongues in casserole
Brussels sprouts Spanish rice
Bran muffins
Fruit custard ring
Orange sauce

The recipes:
Peasant Soup.

Fry slowly, but do not allow to brown, three chopped peeled potatoes, three leeks, three onions, three carrots and one tomato in one-third cup of olive or butter with a little parsley, one bay leaf, three cloves, salt, and freshly ground pepper. When vegetables are soft, add four pints of water, one at the time, and simmer for one hour. Strain and press vegetables through a ricer. Beat the yolks of two eggs with two tablespoons of cream. Over this pour the hot soup and serve at once.

Calves Tongues in Casserole.

Boil eight calves tongues in salted water to cover, until tender, then peel. Reserve the liquor in which tongues were cooked. Sprinkle tongues with pepper and roll in flour. Brown in hot oil, then place in a casserole. Add the liquor in which tongues were boiled, three teaspoons of brown sugar, one-fourth cup of vinegar, 12 crumbled ginger cookies and one thinly sliced lemon. Cook slowly about 30 minutes. Add one-half cup of raisins and one-half cup of shredded blanched almonds. Allow to cool until raisins are puffed.

Bran Muffins.

Three tablespoons of butter and lard mixed.

One third cup of sugar.

Two whole eggs.

One cup of all-bran.

One cup of flour.

Three teaspoons of baking powder.

One-half teaspoon of salt.

Cream, shortening and sugar together. Add the two eggs and beat well, then, with the milk and all-bran. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add to the other mixture. Again beat hard. Bake in greased muffin pans about 25 to 30 minutes.

Fruit Custard Ring.

Soak one-half cup of sifted, soft bread crumbs in two cups of scalded milk, add three-fourths cup of sugar, four slightly beaten eggs, one tablespoon of butter, a generous pinch of salt and one large can of drained fruit salad. Reserve the juice for the sauce. Butter thoroughly a ring mold, or individual baking cups, and fill with the fruit custard. Set mold into a pan containing hot water and bake in a slow oven until firm. For the ring mold will take about an hour and a quarter to bake. Set aside to cool. To unmold, place a cloth over the bottom of the mold. Serve cold with the custard.

Brussels Sprouts.

Cook three pounds of carefully washed Brussels sprouts until tender.

Drain and place in a saucepan with two tablespoons of melted butter, stirring until vegetables are coated with the butter, then pour in one-fourth cup of strong stock, season with salt and pepper, and reheat. Place in serving dish and cover with one-half cup of coarsely rolled bread crumbs which have been browned in two tablespoons of butter.

Spanish Rice.

Shred one-half of a green pepper, when though you count all your assets over and over, you can see no reason to go on. For everything fails. What can you really depend on?

Suddenly I stumbled. Blindly I had left the road, come upon an unfenced, ploughed field. Started, I looked around.

Darkness and rain.

But I dashed straight against the stormy north, and flinging myself in files or flame toward the warming south, ran the first green blades of wheat!

Winter in the sky—winter in the hills—winter in my heart.

BUT THERE, DEFYING THE WINTER, LAUGHING A T DEATH, SINGING, FLINGING ITS IMMORTAL SONG OF CONQUERING LIFE—THERE CAME THE SPRING!

And suddenly, like an answer to that song, there flashed the memory of Bliss Carman’s lines:

“So art thou said again,

“With the immortal train—

“Born to attempt, attain—

“Near surrender!”

Blue days. Through days. Have they come to you again. Days it will soften them wonderfully.

Caster Oil.

When caught in the rain and your shoes are tight and stiff after being dried, wash them with warm water and then rub castor oil into them.

It will soften them wonderfully.

Dear Mrs. Post:
I consider it improper for one who lives in an apartment hotel to go down stairs in dining room wearing street clothes and leaving off her hat? It is such a treat for me to leave my head uncovered, but I hate to dress more than is necessary to go into our apartment dining room for the sake of going hatless.

Answer: Solely from the point of view of fashion, a hat should be worn with a street dress. But no question of “impropriety” is involved, if you choose to go without one.

My dear Mrs. Post: Every Sunday morning presents a confusing situation. When my husband and I arrive at church we are met by an usher in the back of the aisle, who says good morning and then starts down the aisle. I usually follow, with my husband beside or behind me. When the usher stands aside at our pew I take my seat first, followed by my husband. I have noticed some of the ladies walk with the usher, though they do not take his arm.

Answer: At a wedding you would take his arm. In church ordinarily you would walk beside him, if you are young, but you might very well take his arm if you are elderly.

Dear Mrs. Post: An office associate just lost his father, who lived out of town and whom none of us knew. We want to send flowers either to the son or to the father’s funeral, which ever you advise.

My dear Mrs. Post: Every Sunday morning presents a confusing situation. When my husband and I arrive at church we are met by an usher in the back of the aisle, who says good morning, and then asks down the aisle, "Would you like to go with my husband beside or slightly behind me, and when the usher stands aside at our pew, I take my seat first, followed by my husband. I have noticed some of the ladies walk with the usher, though they do not take his arm.

Dear Mrs. Post: An office associate just lost his father, who lived out of town and whom none of us knew. We want to send flowers either to the son or to the father's funeral, which ever you advise.

Answer: Send the flowers to the father's funeral, addressed to the son.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there anything suitable to write in a book that is being given to a friend for a birthday present, and so what?

Answer: With all best wishes for a happy birthday and for many birthdays to come.

My dear Mrs. Post: Does it matter whether I have playing cards monogrammed with my initials or those of my husband's for use in our house?

Answer: Not in the least. It is only however, that you will choose your initials if you use them principally at women's parties in the afternoon and his initials if you and he both play in the evening. But it really makes no difference.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE HOUSE OF 11,000 DIFFERENT BRICKS—John Pospeish, brickmaker of Venus, Nebraska, invented a device for facing bricks that consists of a rubber-suction facer which leaves a different surface on every brick. He used 11,000 bricks in building his home, and has offered to give the house to anyone who can find two alike. He still owns his home.

KNEE ACTION—John F. Murphy invented and patented a knee action running gear for automotive vehicles as early as 1904. In fact it embodies knee action for all four wheels, each wheel being mounted separately on the frame with a single crank-arm. Neither front nor rear wheels are connected by axles.

U. S. Simplifies the Government

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

YOU'VE got to know your A. B. C's to know your Washington. We have government of the people by the initials and for the alphabet.

If it ain't the NRA it's the CFW or the ZML.

They've boiled the Constitution and the by-laws down to a monogram.

It makes for economy and neatness. You can embroider the entire scheme of things and your political platform on the corner of a hanky.

For years we've been complaining that there was too much paper work and involved details in our national legislation.

We're way past that stage now. You are a poor pupil if you can't understand the words and music set down on paper by a rubber stamp.
